

New Business Ideals Under Driving Faith Basis of Big Success

All Old Traditions of Trade Shattered by T. Eaton Company's Policy of Taking Public Into Confidence of Home—Growth Founded on Honesty, Truth and Fair Dealing

FUNDAMENTAL IDEA AT ROOT OF TRADE

On the 30th of September, 1859, a cold, dry day in the city of Toronto which has since become one of the greatest retail war-houses in the world, opened its doors at the southwest corner of Yonge and Queen streets in Toronto. It was a building of the name of T. Eaton & Co. Ltd. In Timothy Eaton was the founder. The first advertisement appeared in the columns of the Globe of that date, stating that T. Eaton & Co. had purchased the business of Mr. James Jennings. The advertisement stated that the business of Mr. Jennings was being sold to T. Eaton & Co. Ltd. for cash only, and that the business had been in the hands of Mr. Jennings for many years.

That was the beginning of what is now The T. Eaton Co. Ltd. The first store was in the old building at the corner of Yonge and Queen streets. The business has since grown into a great concern, with branches in many cities and towns throughout Canada and the United States.

Sweep Traditions Away. The first store was in the old building at the corner of Yonge and Queen streets. The business has since grown into a great concern, with branches in many cities and towns throughout Canada and the United States.

Winning Store Established. In 1862 the Winnipeg store, which was largely the idea of Sir John Eaton, was opened.

From 1862 to 1912 the business continued at the original location. In 1912 the store was moved to the new building at the corner of Yonge and Queen streets.

Fundamental Business Idea. One like most, however, to view this achievement in the light of traditions shattered or maintained.

Mail Order Business. In 1914 the first catalogue was printed, and with it began the mail order business. That catalogue consisted of 32 pages.

The present mail order catalogue runs into 400 pages. When the mail order business was started one woman selected the merchandise and one was employed to wrap packages. The business started. While the rest of the mercantile community in the city stood with wonder, there began the long crusade for early closing, and the store closed on Saturday afternoons during July and August. In July, the fifth year, the Queen street section was added, and the first passenger elevator was installed.

It was at this period, too, that Bargain Day was born. It began with the clearance of frozen lines, and when Timothy Eaton saw it one morning on his return from a buying trip, he exclaimed, "The very thing I just did I wanted." This has since been the basis of the store's success.

In 1903 the first James street store was added to the store, and in 1904 the first Eaton manufacturing store was done. Then the name of the firm was changed to the T. Eaton Company, Limited.

Overseas Buying Offices Opened. The London buying office was opened in 1902, and this was followed by the Paris office in 1903. At the present time the company has buying offices in many cities throughout the world.

The London buying office was opened in 1902, and this was followed by the Paris office in 1903. At the present time the company has buying offices in many cities throughout the world.

Winning Store Established. In 1862 the Winnipeg store, which was largely the idea of Sir John Eaton, was opened.

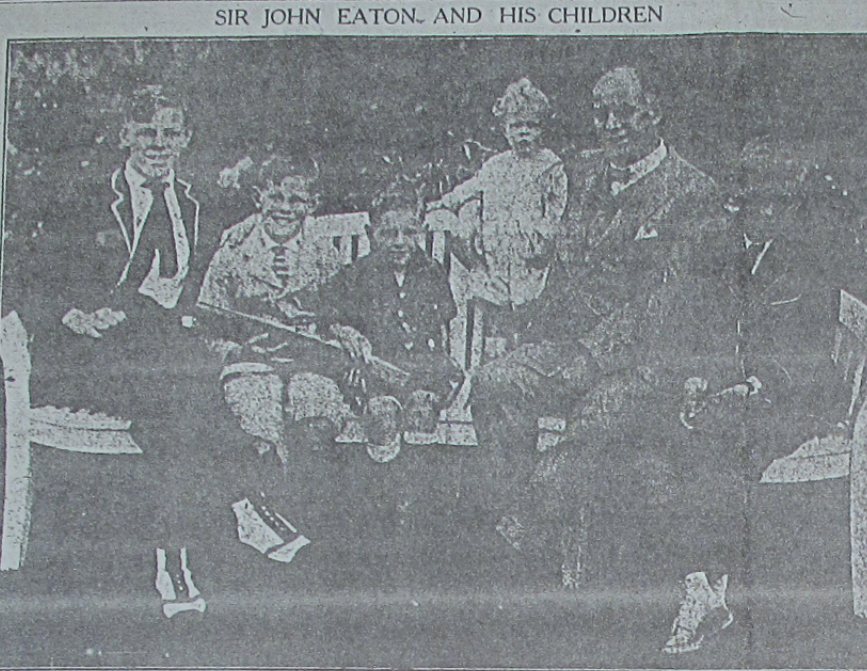

From 1862 to 1912 the business continued at the original location. In 1912 the store was moved to the new building at the corner of Yonge and Queen streets.

Fundamental Business Idea. One like most, however, to view this achievement in the light of traditions shattered or maintained.

Mail Order Business. In 1914 the first catalogue was printed, and with it began the mail order business. That catalogue consisted of 32 pages.

The present mail order catalogue runs into 400 pages. When the mail order business was started one woman selected the merchandise and one was employed to wrap packages. The business started. While the rest of the mercantile community in the city stood with wonder, there began the long crusade for early closing, and the store closed on Saturday afternoons during July and August.

Left to right: Timothy Craig Eaton, aged 19; Edgar Allison Eaton, aged 11; Gilbert McGee Eaton, aged 8; Florence Mary Eaton, aged 3; Sir John C. Eaton; John David Eaton, aged 13.

Death Claims Sir John Eaton

Call Comes to Merchant Prince While Yet Comparatively Young

FOUR WEEKS' ILLNESS

Called from Paris, where he was studying as the Model School and Upper Canada College.

His Great Inheritance.

A good many people have been chosen great riches. Sir John Eaton was a millionaire by inheritance. He inherited not money, but a business. The business was a profit-maker. If he had not inherited a fortune, Sir John Eaton received from his father's example and guidance a training that would have enabled him to succeed in life if he had been without any endowment.

There are three elements in the administration by Sir John Eaton of the great business, which will remain a monument to his memory. Under his father, and continued by Sir John, the business became distinguished for the enlightened treatment of its employees. Throughout the world, for the most part, the lot of the average sales person had been little short of slavery. Long hours, low wages, lifetime working conditions, and the lack of the least assistance of a vacation.

Pioneer in Great Reform.

In Canada, Timothy Eaton was the pioneer of shorter hours, and more humane treatment of store employees. While at the Toronto General Hospital, he had been carried into effect, which other firms have since adopted. In the various mercantile and manufacturing enterprises of the T. Eaton Co. in this city, Winnipeg, and elsewhere, which have grown to have done so, Sir John received these reforms.

The first of these reforms was the shorter hours. Sir John Eaton was a pioneer in this. He was the first to have shorter hours in the city. He was the first to have shorter hours in the city. He was the first to have shorter hours in the city.

He was the first to have shorter hours in the city. He was the first to have shorter hours in the city. He was the first to have shorter hours in the city.

Cross and other objects he was a large benefactor.

Organization for War Work. The third event which distinguished Sir John's business career was in connection with the war. At the moment the war broke out the vast organization ceased to function as a money-making concern and became largely a patriotic institution.

Every possible facility was offered for the enlistment of employees of the firm in various parts of the country. The total number on the honor roll of the company is given as 1,321. Sir John announced that each married man employed by the company who enlisted should receive full pay while in service, and that single men should receive 75 per cent of their pay.

When in January, 1917, Sir John Eaton became the executive head of the company, he did not step into a post where the duties and responsibilities were strange to him. With his brother, the late Edward T. Eaton, he had been born literally into the business.

It was a long span from the small store with few clerks which Timothy Eaton first opened to the public in this city in 1859 to the great merchandising organization which Sir John was called upon to head on the death of his father. Although only 31 years of age at the time he had been trained through the years for that day.

His First Experience. The story is told that during the Christmas season of 1862 a curly-headed boy stood beside a large box of toys. He was spinning the tops which the children were to have. Every time he spun a top, there was a clatter, and as he reached out his hand for somebody's quarter he was answered with a "Thank you" and sent the top to be parcelled.

That it is said to have been Sir John Eaton's first experience. While attending school he began to drift toward the business. On Saturdays, and during the school holidays he took his place in the store and became a part of the parcel deal.

time holding the lad in. With the enthusiasm of youth he wanted to go ahead and buy beyond the capacity of the store to dispose of the goods. Later, when he was near 20 years of age, his father said to him one morning, "Your father wants to see you."

"Wondering what it would be about, he went to the head of the firm. "Well, John," said the father, "have you got your trunk packed?" "Trunk packed?" No, sir, I don't. "You get it packed in two hours."

"Never mind. You're going around the world on a buying trip with one of our buyers." Developing Trading Instinct. It was in this fashion that the trading instinct developed. On one of these trips Sir John saw some dress fabrics at $4 a yard that had never been shown in Canada. He bought a quantity, in spite of the protests of the dress goods manager. "Don't worry," he replied. "These goods will go like a stampede of forty-niners." I'll open a special department of my own to sell them if necessary.

The opening of the Winnipeg store and the extension of the firm's business in Western Canada was the product of Sir John Eaton's foresight. Shortly after he became Vice-President he had a vision of duplicating the success story in Winnipeg. "I spoke to his father about the idea."

"I agree with you," came the answer. "The only obstacle will be the management." Bold Enough to Try. Sir John thought he could solve the question of management. At first he was bold enough to try. He was also bold enough to locate the store on Portage avenue off Main street. On the shoulders of John C. Eaton fell the whole burden of this enterprise. It was the grandest test of business. With characteristic tenacity he went through with it. The gloomy opinion of the contractor that the five-story building could not be completed in twelve months was laughed at. The store's own building organization took hold. On July 24, 1904, the first red was turned. On July 15, the following year, the formal opening took place. It was a gala event, attended by all members of the Eaton family. With his place in the store and became a part of the parcel deal.

Other Large Donations. Other large donations were: Victoria College endowment fund, $50,000; Navy League, $100,000; Forward Movement of the Methodist Church, $100,000. In addition to these Sir John gave largely throughout the year. In fact, it may be stated that never at any time did his bounty or interest diminish.

A characteristic of the man was his capacity for reaching quick decisions and implementing them into action. At the time of the Halifax disaster, with customary promptness he chartered a special train which was stocked with needed supplies of clothing and food for the relief of the sufferers, and Sir John went down himself to personally superintend the distribution.

Then the Eaton boys have their call, with a different one to supervise their reports and keep an eye on their work as well. The boys are encouraged to continue their studies, and an outcome of this is seen in the fourteen scholarships which the firm has endowed at the Ontario College of Art, in photography which attracts the boy, he may join the Eaton Camera Club and participate in the annual competition.

Other Community Features. It must have been his own fondness of outdoor sports that inspired Sir John to maintain the boys' camp at Victoria Park. With its well-kept tennis, dining tent and swimming tank, it is the delight of the young men, who may spend two weeks each summer at the camp. Some spend their vacation there, others prefer to use the privilege while at work, and the week-end always provides a bit time.

Another community feature which has been suggested by Sir John is the Eaton Choral Society, which has 100 members, and last year gave a highly successful concert in Toronto.

Employees Are Appreciated. Six months after the inauguration of the all-year Saturday half-holiday on the eve of the summer season, Sir John received a remarkable tribute. One afternoon in the Arncliffe and Sir John was presented with $20,000, which had been collected from the employees in honor of the event, and with an illuminated address signed by 11,000 employees. The address was handed by employees and bound. The money Sir

John Eaton was a member of the following societies: York Club, National Club, Lambton Golf Club, Scarborough Golf and Country Club, Caledon Mountain Trout Club, Royal Canadian Yacht Club, Thousand Islands Yacht Club, Manitoba Club, Winnipeg Club, Royal Hamilton Yacht Club, Merchants Club, St. Gall married to Miss Florence McGee (Lady Eaton) of Oshawa, Ont., who survives him, with five children: Timothy, Craig, John, David, Edgar, Allison, Gilbert, McGee and Florence Mary. He is also survived by his mother, Mrs. Timothy Eaton, and a brother, Major W. P. Eaton, and two sisters, Mrs. J. S. Burnside and Mrs. C. E. Burden.

Pioneer in Welfare Work. No group of events in Sir John Eaton's life will distinguish his name more than the various measures instituted under his direction to promote the welfare of his employees. Of these the most conspicuous was the courageous move on the occasion of the Golden Jubilee celebration of the foundation of the business in 1913 to reduce working hours, maintain a Saturday half-holiday, the year round, and to close all stores and factories entirely on Saturdays during the summer months. As has been said, Timothy Eaton was a pioneer in the more humane dealing with store and factory employees. The course he laid out in that regard his son faithfully pursued and, where possible, extended.

When the father announced the policy of selling for cash only and at one price, he looked forward to shorter hours. The first move in this direction came when the store did not open for evening business during the Christmas season. Then came the 3 o'clock closing. To induce people to shop on Friday and shorten the working day on Saturday, the "bargain day" was established.

This followed the greatest boon, which Sir John announced in his father's words: "It will not be in my day," he told his son, "but I hope you will live to see the store closed all day Saturday. The week's work will be done between Monday morning and Friday evening. Saturday will be a day for rest and worship, and people will return to work on Monday morning refreshed in body and spirit."

So came about the Saturday half-holiday throughout the year and a full day for "play" during the summer months.

Staff of Welfare Workers. Interest in the employee, however, did not stop with working hours. The head of the Welfare Department is a staff of 300, headed by one in each department of the vast organization—whose duty it is to report on any case of sickness or distress or trouble generally. Included in its equipment are two hospitals, one in the store and one in the factory, with qualified nurses. There is also a home visiting staff of nurses, and their work is assisted by an X-ray and dental clinic, where proper diagnosis and treatment may be secured.

Then the Eaton boys have their call, with a different one to supervise their reports and keep an eye on their work as well. The boys are encouraged to continue their studies, and an outcome of this is seen in the fourteen scholarships which the firm has endowed at the Ontario College of Art, in photography which attracts the boy, he may join the Eaton Camera Club and participate in the annual competition.

Other Large Donations. Other large donations were: Victoria College endowment fund, $50,000; Navy League, $100,000; Forward Movement of the Methodist Church, $100,000. In addition to these Sir John gave largely throughout the year. In fact, it may be stated that never at any time did his bounty or interest diminish.

A characteristic of the man was his capacity for reaching quick decisions and implementing them into action. At the time of the Halifax disaster, with customary promptness he chartered a special train which was stocked with needed supplies of clothing and food for the relief of the sufferers, and Sir John went down himself to personally superintend the distribution.

Then the Eaton boys have their call, with a different one to supervise their reports and keep an eye on their work as well. The boys are encouraged to continue their studies, and an outcome of this is seen in the fourteen scholarships which the firm has endowed at the Ontario College of Art, in photography which attracts the boy, he may join the Eaton Camera Club and participate in the annual competition.

Other Community Features. It must have been his own fondness of outdoor sports that inspired Sir John to maintain the boys' camp at Victoria Park. With its well-kept tennis, dining tent and swimming tank, it is the delight of the young men, who may spend two weeks each summer at the camp. Some spend their vacation there, others prefer to use the privilege while at work, and the week-end always provides a bit time.

Another community feature which has been suggested by Sir John is the Eaton Choral Society, which has 100 members, and last year gave a highly successful concert in Toronto.

Employees Are Appreciated. Six months after the inauguration of the all-year Saturday half-holiday on the eve of the summer season, Sir John received a remarkable tribute. One afternoon in the Arncliffe and Sir John was presented with $20,000, which had been collected from the employees in honor of the event, and with an illuminated address signed by 11,000 employees. The address was handed by employees and bound. The money Sir

John Eaton was a member of the following societies: York Club, National Club, Lambton Golf Club, Scarborough Golf and Country Club, Caledon Mountain Trout Club, Royal Canadian Yacht Club, Thousand Islands Yacht Club, Manitoba Club, Winnipeg Club, Royal Hamilton Yacht Club, Merchants Club, St. Gall

Mourns Her Husband

LADY EATON.

tension to the X-ray wing and for the endowment of the "Sir John Craig Eaton Cut."

The address said the employees wished to express their "sincere appreciation of your most generous and considerate action as set forth in the notable announcement of December 31, 1918, in closing the entire business every Saturday afternoon, and all day Saturday during the months of July and August. This voluntary shortening of our working hours is a magnificent tribute to the many industrial reforms with which the name of 'Eaton' will be associated for some time."

A Liberal Unionist. A Liberal in politics, Sir John Eaton refrained from taking any active interest in party affairs, although he was one of the "15" prominent business men of Toronto who seceded from the Liberal ranks in opposition to the reciprocity pact of 1911. In the Union Government election of 1917, Sir John turned the influence of the whole Eaton organization into that campaign. On more than one occasion it had been suggested that he might represent a Toronto constituency in the House of Commons. That he never voiced his approval of the suggestion seemed to indicate that he had no desire for the political realm.

Sir John was a strong supporter of Canadian industry. Of necessity the store was a large importer of foreign goods, but wherever possible the Canadian product was brought to the front. The recent "Made-in-Canada" exhibit in the Toronto store was his own idea. It cost the firm a considerable sum of money and was destined with the purpose of getting Canadians to support their own industries. From the standpoint of immediate sales it was not organized. The goods shown were collected from Canadian factories and no effort was made, so far as the display was concerned, to induce sales. It was there as an object lesson.

Enthusiastic Yachtsman. Next to motorine, Sir John's favorite recreation was yachting. One of his early ventures was the purchase of the auxiliary cruiser "Tecla," which he subsequently disposed of and purchased the luxurious steam yacht "Florence." This vessel he turned over to the Government for the outbreak of the war, and the vessel did patrol duty off the coast of Labrador.

Sir John Eaton was created a Knight Bachelor on June 8, 1915. Among his other interests Sir John was an enthusiastic supporter of the Baden Powell Boy Scout movement, and was Commissioner for Toronto.

About one year ago a story was current that Sir John Eaton had disposed of his interest in the business to a syndicate of wealthy New York Jews. It was said that the syndicate had been asked to buy the business, but on this occasion it became so persistent that Sir John was approached and asked whether it was true. He was seldom interviewed. No man in an exalted position ever had been in the public eye. But this time he spoke with no no uncertain meaning. There was no truth in the story, he said, nor did he know where it originated. "But there is not enough money in the world to make me sell my business," he said.

At the time of his death, Sir John was 68 years of age. He was born in 1854, and was the youngest of five children. He was educated at the University of Toronto, and was a member of the University of Toronto. He was a member of the University of Toronto. He was a member of the University of Toronto.

At the time of his death, Sir John was 68 years of age. He was born in 1854, and was the youngest of five children. He was educated at the University of Toronto, and was a member of the University of Toronto. He was a member of the University of Toronto. He was a member of the University of Toronto.

...and Saskatoon, factories located all over Canada, and having offices in every prominent market of the world.

Sweeps Trillions Away.

The policy behind all this astounding success can best be told by those who have preserved it for the inspiration of later generations of merchants. When Timothy Eaton started business his ideas were regarded as odd. He was thought to be a dreamer. Cash and no credit. One price only. Goods satisfactory or money refunded. No one is inclined to buy. Current representations of the merchandising. Service. Early change. A minimum wage—these were reforms that made the old-time merchant stand aghast. But there was a faith behind them, and that faith was put to the test, and the test was good. Thus it was that worn-out traditions were swept away.

But it did not happen at once. From 1859 to 1893 the business continued at the original location, but the store had to be enlarged. In 1893 removal took place to 191 Yonge street, which became the nucleus of the present store.

These premises to the present imposing pile of buildings, with the tier upon tier of factory and warehouse premises in the background is a story that sounds like a romance, were it not so vividly real.

Fundamental Business Idea.

One likes most, however, to review this achievement in the light of traditions shattered or maintained. Timothy Eaton's idea of doing business were at first scoffed at by his competitors and scorned by the public. But soon the people were to learn that the fundamental idea of all dealing with the firm were to be honesty, truth, fair dealing. This attracted notice, and as patronage increased and the business grew these ideas were enlarged. For the time came for moving from the original store to the Yonge street location, the staff had increased fourfold.

Mail Order Business.

In 1894 the first catalogue was printed, and with it began the mail order business. That catalogue consisted of 12 pages.

The present mail order catalogue runs into 400 pages. When the mail order branch was started one woman selected the merchandise and employed a man to wrap packages. Today, the mail order branch employs a staff of over 2,000. In 1913 the first telephone was installed. At present the Toronto branch requires a telephone service with 11,000 lines on a private branch exchange, 412 direct lines and a total system of 600 lines operating between departments in store and factory.

In 1914 the first 700 series of catalogue was printed.

Death Claims

Sir John Eaton

Call Comes to Merchant Prince While Yet Comparatively Young

FOUR WEEKS' ILLNESS

(Continued from Page 1, Column 1.)

was educated at the Model School and Upper Canada College.

His Great Inheritance.

A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches." Sir John Eaton was a millionaire by inheritance. He inherited not money, but a business. The business was a profit-maker. If he had not inherited a dollar, Sir John Eaton received from his father's example and guidance a lesson that would have entitled him to succeed in life if he had been without any endowment.

There are three aspects in the administration by Sir John Eaton of the great business which will remain a monument to his memory. Under his father, and continued by Sir John, the business became distinguished for the enlightened treatment of its employees. Throughout the world, for the most part, the lot of the average sales person has been little short of slavery. Long hours, low wages, tireless working conditions, made it indeed the least attractive of vocations.

Pioneer in Great Reform.

In Canada, Timothy Eaton was the pioneer of shorter hours and more humane treatment of store employees. Before his death many reforms had been carried into effect, which other firms have since adopted. In the various mercantile and manufacturing enterprises of the T. Eaton Co. in this city, Winnipeg and elsewhere, which have grown to large dimensions, Sir John extended these reforms.

The benefactions of Sir John Eaton were as widespread as they were generous and timely. One of his greatest gifts was the supply of a grand of $100,000 made to his father toward the building of a hospital wing at the Toronto General Hospital. The total gift for this object, which included the building and complete equipment, was $400,000. It is known as the Timothy Eaton Memorial Wing. He also established a fund of $500,000 for the Department of Medicine at Toronto University, the support of which will be paid $25,000 a year for 10 years. To the endowment fund of Victoria University, the Young Men's Christian Association, Winnipeg General Hospital, Red Cross and others.

On the 12th of May, 1919, Sir John Eaton died, after a comparatively brief illness, at his home at 191 Yonge street, Toronto.

His death was a great loss to the city and to the world.

Call Comes to Merchant Prince While Yet Comparatively Young

FOUR WEEKS' ILLNESS

(Continued from Page 1, Column 1.)

was educated at the Model School and Upper Canada College.

His Great Inheritance.

A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches." Sir John Eaton was a millionaire by inheritance. He inherited not money, but a business. The business was a profit-maker. If he had not inherited a dollar, Sir John Eaton received from his father's example and guidance a lesson that would have entitled him to succeed in life if he had been without any endowment.

There are three aspects in the administration by Sir John Eaton of the great business which will remain a monument to his memory. Under his father, and continued by Sir John, the business became distinguished for the enlightened treatment of its employees. Throughout the world, for the most part, the lot of the average sales person has been little short of slavery. Long hours, low wages, tireless working conditions, made it indeed the least attractive of vocations.

Pioneer in Great Reform.

In Canada, Timothy Eaton was the pioneer of shorter hours and more humane treatment of store employees. Before his death many reforms had been carried into effect, which other firms have since adopted. In the various mercantile and manufacturing enterprises of the T. Eaton Co. in this city, Winnipeg and elsewhere, which have grown to large dimensions, Sir John extended these reforms.

The benefactions of Sir John Eaton were as widespread as they were generous and timely. One of his greatest gifts was the supply of a grand of $100,000 made to his father toward the building of a hospital wing at the Toronto General Hospital. The total gift for this object, which included the building and complete equipment, was $400,000. It is known as the Timothy Eaton Memorial Wing. He also established a fund of $500,000 for the Department of Medicine at Toronto University, the support of which will be paid $25,000 a year for 10 years. To the endowment fund of Victoria University, the Young Men's Christian Association, Winnipeg General Hospital, Red Cross and others.

On the 12th of May, 1919, Sir John Eaton died, after a comparatively brief illness, at his home at 191 Yonge street, Toronto.

His death was a great loss to the city and to the world.

Enthusiasm of Youth

Organization for War Work.

The third event which distinguished Sir John's business career was in connection with the war. At the moment the war broke out the vast organization ceased to function as a money-making concern and became largely a patriotic institution. Every possible facility was offered for the enlistment of employees of the firm in various parts of the country. The total number on the honor roll of the company is given as 3,357. Sir John announced that each married man employed by the company who enlisted should receive full pay while in service, and each single man half pay. To the end of October, 1919, the total amount paid out in war wages was $2,007,000. In addition Sir John's interest in motoring was turned to patriotic uses, and out of his own pocket he paid for the organization and equipment of the Eaton Machine Gun Battery, which later became one of the most effective mobile units in France.

When in January, 1907, Sir John Eaton became the executive head of the company, he did not step into a post where the duties and responsibilities were strange to him. With his brother, the late Edward T. Eaton, he had been born literally into the business.

It was a long span from the small store with five clerks which Timothy Eaton first opened to the public of this city in 1859 to the great merchandising organization which Sir John was called upon to head on the death of his father. Although only 31 years of age at the time he had been trained through the years for that day.

His First Experience.

The story is told that during the Christmas season of 1852 a curly-headed boy stood beside a large barrel of toys. He was spinning the tops which the chronicler says were a delight to him. Every time he spun a top there was a purchaser, and as he reached out his hand for somebody's quarter he responded with a "Thank you!" and sent the top to be parcelled.

That is said to have been Sir John Eaton's beginning. While attending school he began to drift toward the business. On Saturdays and during the school holidays he took his place in the store and became expert at the parcel desk. "Afterwards he would, boylike, haul the engine room, and at intervals shouldered slack into the furnaces, wind the engines or worked the oil can. Had he lacked the inclination to aim the business, his father supplied it to him. On leaving school, was placed under employee conditions. No immunities were granted. He asked none. His task was set, and the reward he received was the weekly pay envelope. Grew With the Business.

So it was that, supernaturally, he was parcel boy, clerk, assistant in the pay office, floor walker. He was made acquainted with the details of the employment office, the mail order branch, and later was made manager of the smallwares and dress goods departments.

In 1891 Sir John became a director of the store, and at the age of 35 he was made Vice-President and a director of the company, following the death of his brother. By this time he had a fairly general knowledge of the store and its departments. He had an instinct for going about not looking for trouble, but to find out where the business machine was functioning. When he inquired of his father what he was to do as Vice-President in one of those characteristic brevities of the late Timothy Eaton, the young man was told that he had to say "Yes" or "No" and be able to decide which one to say at the right time.

Too Great Enthusiasm.

As a lad of 14, Sir John accompanied his father on a buying trip to Europe. It was his first time abroad, and he was permitted to do some buying in toys and smallwares. The parent, it is said, had a hard

Enthusiasm of Youth

organization for war work. The third event which distinguished Sir John's business career was in connection with the war. At the moment the war broke out the vast organization ceased to function as a money-making concern and became largely a patriotic institution. Every possible facility was offered for the enlistment of employees of the firm in various parts of the country. The total number on the honor roll of the company is given as 3,357. Sir John announced that each married man employed by the company who enlisted should receive full pay while in service, and each single man half pay. To the end of October, 1919, the total amount paid out in war wages was $2,007,000. In addition Sir John's interest in motoring was turned to patriotic uses, and out of his own pocket he paid for the organization and equipment of the Eaton Machine Gun Battery, which later became one of the most effective mobile units in France.

When in January, 1907, Sir John Eaton became the executive head of the company, he did not step into a post where the duties and responsibilities were strange to him. With his brother, the late Edward T. Eaton, he had been born literally into the business.

It was a long span from the small store with five clerks which Timothy Eaton first opened to the public of this city in 1859 to the great merchandising organization which Sir John was called upon to head on the death of his father. Although only 31 years of age at the time he had been trained through the years for that day.

His First Experience.

The story is told that during the Christmas season of 1852 a curly-headed boy stood beside a large barrel of toys. He was spinning the tops which the chronicler says were a delight to him. Every time he spun a top there was a purchaser, and as he reached out his hand for somebody's quarter he responded with a "Thank you!" and sent the top to be parcelled.

That is said to have been Sir John Eaton's beginning. While attending school he began to drift toward the business. On Saturdays and during the school holidays he took his place in the store and became expert at the parcel desk. "Afterwards he would, boylike, haul the engine room, and at intervals shouldered slack into the furnaces, wind the engines or worked the oil can. Had he lacked the inclination to aim the business, his father supplied it to him. On leaving school, was placed under employee conditions. No immunities were granted. He asked none. His task was set, and the reward he received was the weekly pay envelope. Grew With the Business.

So it was that, supernaturally, he was parcel boy, clerk, assistant in the pay office, floor walker. He was made acquainted with the details of the employment office, the mail order branch, and later was made manager of the smallwares and dress goods departments.

In 1891 Sir John became a director of the store, and at the age of 35 he was made Vice-President and a director of the company, following the death of his brother. By this time he had a fairly general knowledge of the store and its departments. He had an instinct for going about not looking for trouble, but to find out where the business machine was functioning. When he inquired of his father what he was to do as Vice-President in one of those characteristic brevities of the late Timothy Eaton, the young man was told that he had to say "Yes" or "No" and be able to decide which one to say at the right time.

Too Great Enthusiasm.

As a lad of 14, Sir John accompanied his father on a buying trip to Europe. It was his first time abroad, and he was permitted to do some buying in toys and smallwares. The parent, it is said, had a hard

Enthusiasm of Youth

organization for war work. The third event which distinguished Sir John's business career was in connection with the war. At the moment the war broke out the vast organization ceased to function as a money-making concern and became largely a patriotic institution. Every possible facility was offered for the enlistment of employees of the firm in various parts of the country. The total number on the honor roll of the company is given as 3,357. Sir John announced that each married man employed by the company who enlisted should receive full pay while in service, and each single man half pay. To the end of October, 1919, the total amount paid out in war wages was $2,007,000. In addition Sir John's interest in motoring was turned to patriotic uses, and out of his own pocket he paid for the organization and equipment of the Eaton Machine Gun Battery, which later became one of the most effective mobile units in France.

When in January, 1907, Sir John Eaton became the executive head of the company, he did not step into a post where the duties and responsibilities were strange to him. With his brother, the late Edward T. Eaton, he had been born literally into the business.

It was a long span from the small store with five clerks which Timothy Eaton first opened to the public of this city in 1859 to the great merchandising organization which Sir John was called upon to head on the death of his father. Although only 31 years of age at the time he had been trained through the years for that day.

His First Experience.

The story is told that during the Christmas season of 1852 a curly-headed boy stood beside a large barrel of toys. He was spinning the tops which the chronicler says were a delight to him. Every time he spun a top there was a purchaser, and as he reached out his hand for somebody's quarter he responded with a "Thank you!" and sent the top to be parcelled.

That is said to have been Sir John Eaton's beginning. While attending school he began to drift toward the business. On Saturdays and during the school holidays he took his place in the store and became expert at the parcel desk. "Afterwards he would, boylike, haul the engine room, and at intervals shouldered slack into the furnaces, wind the engines or worked the oil can. Had he lacked the inclination to aim the business, his father supplied it to him. On leaving school, was placed under employee conditions. No immunities were granted. He asked none. His task was set, and the reward he received was the weekly pay envelope. Grew With the Business.

So it was that, supernaturally, he was parcel boy, clerk, assistant in the pay office, floor walker. He was made acquainted with the details of the employment office, the mail order branch, and later was made manager of the smallwares and dress goods departments.

In 1891 Sir John became a director of the store, and at the age of 35 he was made Vice-President and a director of the company, following the death of his brother. By this time he had a fairly general knowledge of the store and its departments. He had an instinct for going about not looking for trouble, but to find out where the business machine was functioning. When he inquired of his father what he was to do as Vice-President in one of those characteristic brevities of the late Timothy Eaton, the young man was told that he had to say "Yes" or "No" and be able to decide which one to say at the right time.

Too Great Enthusiasm.

As a lad of 14, Sir John accompanied his father on a buying trip to Europe. It was his first time abroad, and he was permitted to do some buying in toys and smallwares. The parent, it is said, had a hard

Enthusiasm of Youth

organization for war work. The third event which distinguished Sir John's business career was in connection with the war. At the moment the war broke out the vast organization ceased to function as a money-making concern and became largely a patriotic institution. Every possible facility was offered for the enlistment of employees of the firm in various parts of the country. The total number on the honor roll of the company is given as 3,357. Sir John announced that each married man employed by the company who enlisted should receive full pay while in service, and each single man half pay. To the end of October, 1919, the total amount paid out in war wages was $2,007,000. In addition Sir John's interest in motoring was turned to patriotic uses, and out of his own pocket he paid for the organization and equipment of the Eaton Machine Gun Battery, which later became one of the most effective mobile units in France.

When in January, 1907, Sir John Eaton became the executive head of the company, he did not step into a post where the duties and responsibilities were strange to him. With his brother, the late Edward T. Eaton, he had been born literally into the business.

It was a long span from the small store with five clerks which Timothy Eaton first opened to the public of this city in 1859 to the great merchandising organization which Sir John was called upon to head on the death of his father. Although only 31 years of age at the time he had been trained through the years for that day.

His First Experience.

The story is told that during the Christmas season of 1852 a curly-headed boy stood beside a large barrel of toys. He was spinning the tops which the chronicler says were a delight to him. Every time he spun a top there was a purchaser, and as he reached out his hand for somebody's quarter he responded with a "Thank you!" and sent the top to be parcelled.

That is said to have been Sir John Eaton's beginning. While attending school he began to drift toward the business. On Saturdays and during the school holidays he took his place in the store and became expert at the parcel desk. "Afterwards he would, boylike, haul the engine room, and at intervals shouldered slack into the furnaces, wind the engines or worked the oil can. Had he lacked the inclination to aim the business, his father supplied it to him. On leaving school, was placed under employee conditions. No immunities were granted. He asked none. His task was set, and the reward he received was the weekly pay envelope. Grew With the Business.

So it was that, supernaturally, he was parcel boy, clerk, assistant in the pay office, floor walker. He was made acquainted with the details of the employment office, the mail order branch, and later was made manager of the smallwares and dress goods departments.

In 1891 Sir John became a director of the store, and at the age of 35 he was made Vice-President and a director of the company, following the death of his brother. By this time he had a fairly general knowledge of the store and its departments. He had an instinct for going about not looking for trouble, but to find out where the business machine was functioning. When he inquired of his father what he was to do as Vice-President in one of those characteristic brevities of the late Timothy Eaton, the young man was told that he had to say "Yes" or "No" and be able to decide which one to say at the right time.

Too Great Enthusiasm.

As a lad of 14, Sir John accompanied his father on a buying trip to Europe. It was his first time abroad, and he was permitted to do some buying in toys and smallwares. The parent, it is said, had a hard

Enthusiasm of Youth

organization for war work. The third event which distinguished Sir John's business career was in connection with the war. At the moment the war broke out the vast organization ceased to function as a money-making concern and became largely a patriotic institution. Every possible facility was offered for the enlistment of employees of the firm in various parts of the country. The total number on the honor roll of the company is given as 3,357. Sir John announced that each married man employed by the company who enlisted should receive full pay while in service, and each single man half pay. To the end of October, 1919, the total amount paid out in war wages was $2,007,000. In addition Sir John's interest in motoring was turned to patriotic uses, and out of his own pocket he paid for the organization and equipment of the Eaton Machine Gun Battery, which later became one of the most effective mobile units in France.

When in January, 1907, Sir John Eaton became the executive head of the company, he did not step into a post where the duties and responsibilities were strange to him. With his brother, the late Edward T. Eaton, he had been born literally into the business.

It was a long span from the small store with five clerks which Timothy Eaton first opened to the public of this city in 1859 to the great merchandising organization which Sir John was called upon to head on the death of his father. Although only 31 years of age at the time he had been trained through the years for that day.

His First Experience.

The story is told that during the Christmas season of 1852 a curly-headed boy stood beside a large barrel of toys. He was spinning the tops which the chronicler says were a delight to him. Every time he spun a top there was a purchaser, and as he reached out his hand for somebody's quarter he responded with a "Thank you!" and sent the top to be parcelled.

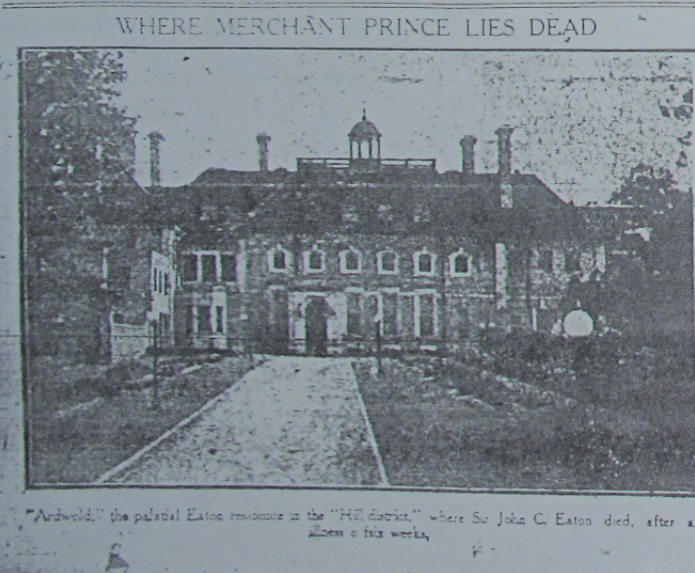

That is said to have been Sir John Eaton's beginning. While attending school he began to drift toward the business. On Saturdays and during the school holidays he took his place in the store and became expert at the parcel desk. "Afterwards he would, boylike, haul the engine room, and at intervals shouldered slack into the furnaces, wind the engines or worked the oil can. Had he lacked the inclination to aim the business, his father supplied it to him. On leaving school, was placed under employee conditions. No immunities were granted. He asked none. His task was set, and the reward he received was the weekly pay envelope. Grew With the Business.

So it was that, supernaturally, he was parcel boy, clerk, assistant in the pay office, floor walker. He was made acquainted with the details of the employment office, the mail order branch, and later was made manager of the smallwares and dress goods departments.

In 1891 Sir John became a director of the store, and at the age of 35 he was made Vice-President and a director of the company, following the death of his brother. By this time he had a fairly general knowledge of the store and its departments. He had an instinct for going about not looking for trouble, but to find out where the business machine was functioning. When he inquired of his father what he was to do as Vice-President in one of those characteristic brevities of the late Timothy Eaton, the young man was told that he had to say "Yes" or "No" and be able to decide which one to say at the right time.

Too Great Enthusiasm.

As a lad of 14, Sir John accompanied his father on a buying trip to Europe. It was his first time abroad, and he was permitted to do some buying in toys and smallwares. The parent, it is said, had a hard

"Arndwell," the palatial Eaton residence in the "Hill district," where Sir John C. Eaton died, after an illness of six weeks.

Memorable scene in the T. Eaton Co.'s store on the morning of January 2, 1919, just after Mrs. Timothy Eaton had unlocked the Yonge street door and proceeded inside. In the group with Mrs. Timothy Eaton may be seen Sir John Eaton. On either side of the aisle are throngs of employees.

INAUGURATING GOLDEN JUBILEE OF THE T. EATON STORE

SIR JOHN EATON LEAVES ESTATE OF $13,089,622

Will Provides for Many Bequests to Members of Family

FORTUNE PLACED IN TRUST

The late Sir John C. Eaton's will, which has been filed for probate, disposes of an estate valued at $13,089,622.32, including numerous large holdings of stocks, bonds and real property. Sir John's interests in the T. Eaton Company, Ltd., which are valued at $4,832,545, form the largest individual item. Other holdings include 156 shares of Dominion Bank stock, valued at $30,342; 250 shares of C.P.R. stock, valued at $26,000; shares in the T. Eaton Life Assurance Company, valued at $60,000, and a variety of other holdings in clubs, charitable organizations and institutions, the total of stocks having an aggregate value of $4,973,837. Bonds, book debts, real properties, household goods and chattels, automobiles, motor boats and horses form the residue of $3,124,785.

Millions in War Bonds.
The bonds of the estate include Dominion of Canada war loan bonds valued at $2,841,877.68; Province of Ontario bonds and stock valued at $1,574,701.32, and other miscellaneous securities valued at $39,185.79, making a total of $4,540,564.80.

The book debts and promissory notes amount to $63,104.01; mortgages on real estate to $52,056.55; miscellaneous assets to $110,875. The latter includes the contents of "Ardwold," Sir John's late residence, and of the Muskoka home, also automobiles, boats, etc.
The real estate includes Sir John's residence in Toronto, known as "Ardwold," which is valued at $100,000, and a number of properties in different parts of the city, including practically all of the two blocks lying south of College street and west of Yonge street, the total amounting to $3,329,155.15.

Solves Real Estate Mystery.
The inclusion in the list of real estate holdings of the two blocks of land lying south of College street and west of Yonge street recalls the fact that for many years those blocks of land were known as the "mystery blocks." Though gradually the ownership was attributed to Sir John, no specific statement that the property had passed into his hands was ever made, and the clause in the will is the first definite statement of ownership.

Sir John, whose benefactions in life were many and great, leaves the larger portion of his vast estate in trust with five executors, to be administered by them for the benefit of members of his family. Under the will, which bears the date of March 9, 1922, 21 days before his death, Sir John directs that the Timothy Eaton Memorial Church shall be transferred to the Methodist Church, with or without terms, at the discretion of his executors, and that a series of bequests, totaling $69,000, be paid to certain members and ex-members of the staff of "Ardwold."

NAMES Five Executors.
Lady Eaton, R. V. Eaton, Harry McGee, J. J. Vaughan and Mr. X. Mills, all of whom are directors of the T. Eaton Company, Limited, are named as executors and trustees, into whose charge almost the entire estate is given. In the will they are directed to form a fund not exceeding $800,000 to be used, at their discretion, either for investment or in the purchase of the Hamilton factory of the T. Eaton Company, Limited, excluding the real estate of that factory, and to pay such of the income therefrom to Sir John's brother, Major W. F. Eaton, as they may decide. "Ardwold," Sir John's Toronto residence, is to be maintained as the residence for Lady Eaton, and that property, together with the Muskoka home, is given outright to Lady Eaton, with an annual sum of $100,000 for her support and for the maintenance and

Seeks Job, Loses It, Then Lad Disappears

Clifford Monk, a 14-year-old lad, of 355 Hawthorne avenue, Fairbank, has been missing since May 31, when he left home to go to work on St. Clair avenue.
He had been told by his prospective employer that his services were not required, and he has not since been seen. His mother, Mrs. Martha Monk, is very ill. The absent boy is about 5 feet 2 inches, dark complexion, with blue eyes. He wore long khaki trousers, grey check coat and dark peak-cap. Provincial Constable James E. McMillan is looking for the youth.

education of the children. Further payments may be made at the discretion of the executors for the support, maintenance, education or advancement in life of any of the children.

Son to Fill His Place.
Respecting the stock held by him in the T. Eaton Company, Limited, Sir John's will directs that it shall be held until one of his children assumes the management of the business of the company, when this stock is to be transferred to him, after provision has been made for the other members of the family. It is also provided that, in case any funds are formed, the child who gets the stock gets also any residuary estate, but both stocks and residue are charged with all the benefits given to the others under the will.

There is an alternative provision with respect to the stock in the T. Eaton Company, Limited, namely, that the executors may sell the stock, in which case the proceeds, with the residuary estate, are to be equally divided among the children, after provision has been made for all other persons beneficially entitled under the will.

The executors are to make payments to Sir John's mother during her life to about the same extent as he has been making since the death of his father.

Each of Sir John's sisters, Mrs. Josephine Smith Burdette and Mrs. Margaret Beattie Burdette, is to receive annual payments not to exceed $25,000, and his brother, Major W. F. Eaton, payments not to exceed $15,000 a year.

COMING ATTRACTIONS

What Playhouses and Concert Halls Say of Their Performances

"Foolish Wives" is to be retained at the Pantages for the second week. The business has been so big and so many people have been unable to gain admission that, out of fairness to the thousands that wish to see this famous million-dollar picture, the management are holding it for next week. After the Pantages engagement, "Foolish Wives" will not be seen in any other Toronto theatre until fall. Maude George will appear on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday only. An all new vaudeville bill will be offered next week, headed by Al. Sweet and his singing band, composed of nine White Hussars, in a wonderful program of vocal and instrumental selections.

"POMANDER WALK"
The most popular question asked at social gatherings during the last few weeks will be, "Did you see Pomander Walk at the Royal Alexandra?" The instantly delightful comedy, which has been running for a week at the Royal Alexandra, and then at the Princess Theatre, has been a great success. "Pomander Walk" is a small suburb of London, driven by its author as "being such a swick way." It is only half dozen houses overlooking the Thames, but its inhabitants are the most delightful ever seen on a stage. Timeliness will be, as usual, on Wednesday and Saturday.

UPTOWN THEATRE

Monday evening at 8.15 a all week Vaughan Glaser will present Margaret Mayo's laugh scene, "Baby Mine." It is quite some time since this comedy has been given locally and its presentation by the popular stock organization at the Uptown Theatre next week is looked forward to with a keen deal of interest.

ONLY 10 CENT. THIS ST. DAY

Legislature Includes Session To About Tempe Beer

NO HO MONOPOLY

Legislators, feeling exhilarated by expectation of getting away Queen's Park, had considerably yesterday with the bill introduced by J. C. Cridland, South Nor. confine the sale of temperance to standard hotels.
Hon. G. Gibson, H. H. Dewar (Southw.) and R. L. Brackin (West.) E. W. Hay, Liberal Leader, expressed the opinion there was no demand for such action and that the effect of it would be unfair, but Charles (Labor, Niagara Falls) in the principle of the measure a particular application to Niagara.

Take Caution

Mr. C. said that since the American had been restricted to their high-powered beer, they were to Niagara Falls in swarms, and that the hotelkeepers, with their head costs, might well be given business.

Mr. C. thought that a little 2 per cent might be unearthed at even a picnic, but a U.P.O. member promptly corrected him on the point was hard cider that constituted party beverage.

—Mr. C.—They use 2 per cent.

Mr. C. said he introduced the measure in the interests of "temperance" and the hotelkeepers, but it was a division.

Road Hill, June 2.—(Special.) Town Council on Thursday adopted daylight saving, which will come into effect next evening, at midnight, and expire at midnight September 4. There was some opposition to the measure, as it would show a petition against, signed by residents. A counter-petition, signed by names in favor of daylight saving, decided the issue.

LABOR PLEASED BY NEW RULING FROM OTTAWA

Order-in-Council on Wages, Hours and Contracts Given Approval

WHAT UNIONS WANTED

Organized Labor appreciates the Order-in-Council of the Federal Government, passed on Wednesday, dealing with wages and conditions on Government contracts. The Order-in-Council will meet the situations concerning which organized Labor had frequently complained to the Meighen, Government, and lately brought to the attention of the present Government.

The Order-in-Council defines "current wages" and "hours of labor" on Government work as meaning standard rates of wages and hours of labor either recognized by signed agreements between employers and employees in the district from which the labor is necessarily drawn, although not necessarily recognized by signed agreements.

Pay Current Wages.

Where the Department of Labor is unable to furnish a schedule of wages and hours, it may recommend the insertion of a general clause providing for the observance of the current wages and hours fixed by the custom of trade for the classes of required labor.

In the event of a dispute arising as to the wages paid or hours worked, the matter is to be referred to the Minister of Labor, whose decision shall be final and payment of money to the contractor may be withheld until the decision of the Minister is complied with.

To avoid abuses which might arise from the subletting of contracts, subletting other than is customary is forbidden until the approval of the Minister whose department let the contract has been secured.

Neither the contract nor any portion thereof may be transferred without written permission, and no portion of the work is to be done in the home of work people.

What Labor Was Seeking.

James Simpson, Secretary of the Labor Temple Company, who appeared with a delegation before Hon. Mr. King and Hon. Mr. Greer, during the Meighen regime, to protest against the action of the Meighen Government in connection with the enforcement of the fair wage resolution, said yesterday the Order-in-Council was very favorable to organized labor and "what Labor has been asking for." He thought it was far-reaching.

The fair wage resolution of the Laurier Government of 1909, introduced by Sir William Mulock, failed when the test came," said Mr. Simpson.

Hon. Mr. Ballantyne overrode Senator Robertson, Minister of Labor, and fixed wages paid to mechanics at work in shipyards in Toronto. The original intention of the fair wage resolution was that the wages to be paid upon Government contracts, and to facilitate the matter fair wage officers were appointed.

Mr. Simpson regarded as important the recognition of prevailing rates of wages fixed by agreements between employers and employees, the recognition of the Minister of Labor, whose department let the contract, and the subletting of contracts to contractors with the Minister of Labor was satisfied his demands were being complied with.

Sub-contractor Squeezed.

The regulation regarding sub-contracting will avoid much unpleasantness, stated Mr. Simpson. "The practice has been to secure tenders in blanket form and to sublet portions of them. The original contractor usually secures his profit, and frequently places the sub-contractor in a position of being compelled to secure his labor at low wages if he is to make a profit. This has been the experience of organized labor."

Organized labor, expected that Hon. Mr. King, if he became Premier, would take an interest in this matter, which is of great importance to it. He was an official of the department when the fair wage resolution was passed. We hoped he would give effect to its intentions. Labor will appreciate the Order-in-

ANGLICAN C IS DISCU

Synod Decides to Every Support
Its Power

SYMPATHY FOR

Rising as one man in their sympathy with the of the sister Church of what was characterized as days of persecution and Synod of the Diocese of their final session yesterday authorized Right Sweeney, Bishop of Toronto immediately an appropriation of sympathy and encourage the Archbishop of Ireland introducing the motion, Wallace said that with the son the United States had in Cuba, while the Protest Ireland were suffering a more owing to the with British troops. R. H. G. self a native of the Em warmly seconded the motion referred to the great debt can Church in Canada of Irish Church. "We have money," he said, "to China and Russia. Should we patheize with those of our in Ireland who are enduring hardships?"

Refers to Outrages.

"I never thought, my gentlemen," exclaimed J. by, "that I should live to see such things could have under the British flag." on to relate outrages which on to relate and relate fallen friends and relatives own in that troubled land that the saddest thing of that the half was never Press.

"I am a Canadian," said R. Roaf, "and my family for four generations, but of blood in my veins but thought of the horrible of Protestant people in and west of Ireland. We show the world that we in Canada are behind the there."

"I speak as an Irishman Bishop Sweeney, and I am at the shocking reports in the papers every morning deeply in accord with the I shall never forget the pain on the faces of the hops at the Lambeth C. They wondered every whether they should not to their persecuted dock, from my friends and relatives I can see that our people in constant fear under of Damocles." All these were continually applauded Synod.

Anglican Club.

The future of the Anglican came up for discussion of submission of the report Duplex Envelope Committee following the failure of to organize an Anglican League," said J. T. Orm realizing the need of a meeting place, we called of 13 churches and with approval formed the Anglican Club has now been in ever a year—and we have support from any of the of the Deanery except the

To be seen as Josephine in "H.M.S. Pinfore" at the Princess Theatre next week.

LOEW'S YONGE ST. THEATRE.

There is a big treat in store for those who see the show at Loew's Yonge Street Theatre next week, when, in addition to an all-star vaudeville bill, Clara Kimball Young will be seen in "Hush," a story that is jammed full of drama. The theme is original and the action gallops along at top speed until the very last fade-out in the final scene. In "Hush" Miss Young achieves another distinctively triumphant success.

"SISTERS AT THE REGENT."

On Monday and all next week.

the
their
the along models

t and erent
slash
a of k are low,

than

ing

ities
and firm, ng—
rily;
pos-
will

child that grew ever feel awk-
s it lent grace movements. The l singing which Miss Mary Mc-
ent, did the special business
plans were per-right to be held was decided to olence to Lady

ION
S BOOK

Typewriting"
ed Fred Jarrett
y Lessons

& Sons, Ltd.
Toronto

al Text Book
Co., Limited.
61

INVALIDS

Extract in Powder

the lift when the Queen passed. He did so—with rather unexpected results. Queen Mary, seated in her car, saw the soldier standing there, bouquet in hand, and assuming that he wished to present it to her, she reached out and took it. After she had thanked him her car passed on. The soldier stood quite dumfounded—then recovering his speech, he said: "Well, I'm blowed! She's pinched 'em."

Correspondence

Note.—No private replies given. Name and address must accompany letter; but not for publication. We wish to thank each helpful "neighbor."

Dear Katherine Kent.—In a recent issue of The Globe you gave a list of things necessary for the new baby. May I add to that list a small bottle of camphorated oil for the basket? Nothing is better for cleaning a baby's nose and for any little rough spots, or in the creases in the little arms and legs there is nothing so healing. Before our little boy came to us I had ready some good olive oil in a nice little cut glass bottle, but I found out the nurse was right, the camphorated oil was the best. I also think it has kept him, or helped keep him, from having colds, too, as up till now he has never had the slightest cold and he is nearly nine months old. He weighs twenty-three pounds and has six teeth. He sleeps outside every day no matter how cold and you should just see his lovely rosy cheeks; and his smiles.

Here is a "help" I learned the other day: In preparing dates, pour over them warm water and then stone. You will be amazed how easy they are to prepare. They were always a bugbear to me before I learned this. "Young Mother."

"Belle."—Thanks for the reading and thanks for having a name. Today we opened fifty-odd letters addressed to the "Homemaker" and thirty-eight of the fifty-odd were signed either "Anxious" or "Perplexed." And in springtime, and every bulb getting ready to bloom! Surely some one might be a crocus.

Increases the action of the intestines

Hundreds of men and women have already found freedom from laxatives by eating Fleischmann's fresh yeast.

Doctors are now agreed that proper elimination of waste matter should be brought about by food. One doctor comes right out and states plainly that the indiscriminate use of cathartics is one of the causes of constipation.

Physicians all over the country are recommending Fleischmann's fresh yeast because it is a fresh food, rich in those elements which keep the intestines healthy. In one series of tested cases, normal functions were restored in from 3 days to 5 weeks.

Try it out for yourself. Begin today by adding 2 or 3 cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast to your everyday diet. Keep it up and see how normally and regularly your intestines act. Be sure it's Fleischmann's Yeast—the familiar tin-foil package with the yellow label. Place a standing order with your grocer.

What man would marry for the pleasure of supporting a woman, keep her well dressed and let her spend her time at pink teas, matinees, card parties and entertaining her friends while he works long hours and pays a maid to give him badly cooked meals when he comes home?

It's the old-time girl I'm looking for, Katherine, and if I ever find her I assure you she won't lack for attention and kindness from me, and until I do find her I will remain a "Happy Bachelor."

TWELFTH NIGHT WELL PLAYED

Clever Pupils of Margaret Eaton School Score
Success

CAST ENTIRELY OF GIRLS

"Twelfth Night," aptly described as the "brightest and sunniest" of Shakespeare's comedies, was performed very creditably on Saturday evening by the pupils of the Margaret Eaton School of Literature and Expression, when an admiring audience of relatives and friends filled the school auditorium.

The fact that the entire cast was composed of girls added charm to the play. The scenery was of the simple type so effective in Shakespearean production, and the curtain was not drawn between scenes, the few property shifts being effected by two dainty maidens who acted as pages.

The acting was, on the whole, quite good, particularly in the case of the more difficult male roles, although sufficient attention was not paid to voice production, and many of the lines were spoken somewhat too rapidly to be heard distinctly.

Miss Helen Parsons' portrayal of the wine-bibbing Sir Toby was most effective and evidenced a thorough understanding of the part. Miss Alice Thompson, a most captivating Viola, showed excellent dramatic interpretation, further strengthened by a clear enunciation of her lines. Miss Jean Douglas made a bright and nimble clown.

The cast included Miss Marion Perry as Orsino, Miss Lena Sanders as Maria, Miss Margaret Inglis as Sir Andrew Aguecheek, Miss Jane Hinds as Olivia, Miss Beatrice Goad as Malvollo, Miss Dorothy Pratt as Sebastian, and Miss Lois Howard as Antonio. All showed the good results of their careful training. Those taking minor parts were Misses Lucille Chambers, Hazel Frawley, Josephine Robinson, Kathleen Pepler, Winnifred Prendergast, Frances Pearce, Edna Stabler, Blanche Bowman, Dudley Sydney, Dorothy Murphy, Beatrice Moss, Aletha Orr, Norah MacLennan and Andreana Williams.

The presentation was under the direction of Mrs. Dora Mavor Moore.

Takes Friend's Advice And Dies From Poison

V. Fong, Chinese, fifty-five years of age, of 67 1-2 Elizabeth street, died in the General Hospital last night from hemorrhage of the mouth. Fong was admitted to the hospital one month ago, suffering from mercurial poisoning. Fong told the hospital doctors he had been taking mercury as a medicine on the advice of a fellow-countryman living in San Francisco. An inquest will not be held.

Special

This is a specially priced line of smart including sailors, trimmed and draped.

The Renfrew Corset

An exceptionally good corset at a moderate price. Our expert corsetiere give you every attention and may be sure of a perfect fitting ..... $7.5

Slip-on Sweaters

All-wool sweaters in all the shades. A charming and colorful touch ..... $8.5

Sports Vests

Material of Crash, with ravelling edge in Rust, Ratine and Pongee. A dash of color to brighten up the new Sport Suit.

$1.50 to $5.00

W

Here is a timely Easter
They are of excellent quality Taupe, Castor, Brown, also White, Black, and perfect. They are exce

The firm that inspire

RE DOING

Social Events

attended for Social Column must be addressed to Society Editor, and addresses of senders. Telephone numbers, M. 5400 and N. 4441P.

Mr. Jarvis has returned from

Downey is spending Easter

Carson is now in New York

Ayle and Mrs. Duncan Coul-

Woo is visiting at the home

Gurn of Cobourg is the formerly Mrs. Downey, of St. George street, is today for the University Col-

s. J. H. Cascaden have re-

and Ruth Ridley have been

Washington and are going to allworth, Niagara Falls, has own and has taken Miss

ster, Mr. A. Lester, Miss

Mr. J. Donnellon, and Miss

spent Easter at the Game-

Mackay of Cranbrook, B.C.,

Miss Rosamond Denton

Friday; Miss Edith Snow

Tuesday, and Miss Vivian

on-on-Thursday, April 27.

Arrivals at Bermuda

Whitten, Toronto; Mr. and

ues and Mr. J. E. Jaques,

and Mrs. H. S. Anderson

erine E. Osborne, Toronto.

Carveth entertained at a hower on Tuesday in honor and Denton, who is to be

Mrs. George Carveth pre-

Mrs. S. A. Parsons, Miss M. Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Lucas, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Pierheller, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Stewart, Mrs. A. R. London, Miss J. London, Mrs. J. Barron.

The Loretto Alumnae Association held an interesting evening when the Toronto Public Library Dramatic Association presented "Pride and Prejudice," by Jane Austen, last night. The auditorium at Loretto Abbey was filled to capacity by members and their friends. His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Cockshutt and the Misses Cockshutt, attended by Colonel Fraser and Lieut. Rielle Thompson, were present. Rev. Mother Pulcheris, Mrs. J. P. Hynes, President of the Loretto Association, and the Vice-Presidents, Mrs. W. S. Milne and Mrs. Harry Roessler, received the guests. Old-fashioned nosegays were presented to Mrs. Cockshutt and the Misses Cockshutt. Those taking part in the play were the Misses Margaret McElderry, Edith Lambert, Rita Lewis, Vera Kehoe, Irene Belcher, Mary Smart, Agnes McElderry, Marjory Jarvis, Jessie Dickson and Ruth Warde. All received hearty applause for their individual efforts. During the evening Miss Evelyn Lee, A.T.C.M., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. J. Lee, performed brilliantly at the piano. Eleven young ladies, 1922 graduates of Loretto Abbey College, in cap and gown, acted as ushers. Members of the Loretto Association assisting were: Mrs. W. Merry, Miss Lambe, Miss Small, Miss Collins, Miss Clarke and Miss Cote. A few of those present were: Dr. George Locke, Chief Librarian, and Mrs. Locke, members of the Public Library Board, Mr. Justice and Mrs. Kelly, Hon. and Mrs. Manning Doherty, Judge and Mrs. O'Connell, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. J. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Phelan, Rev. Father Burke, Rev. Father Welch, Rev. Dr. O'Leary, Rev. Father Coyle, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Warde, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Gough, Mr. and Mrs. Harkins, Miss L. M. Hart, and the Executive of the St. Joseph College Alumnae Association, Miss Gertrude Lawler, Miss Mary Power, Miss Tessie Lalor. After the performance Mrs. J. P. Hynes entertained the members of the cast, the Executive of the Alumnae Association and the ushers, to supper at her home in Castle Frank road.

A very charming afternoon was spent in the library of the Physics Building yesterday, when Prof. and Madame Lorents of Leyden, Holland were the distinguished guests of Prof. and Mrs. McLennan at the tea hour. The table, ablaze with roses and bunches of rose sweet-peas, blended delightfully with the surroundings. The assistants were: Mr. and Mrs. John Cartwright, Miss Beatrice Scadding, Miss Mary Tyrrell, Miss Bettie Boulton, Miss Estelle Hodgins, Miss Ottilie Kerr, Miss McCormack, Mr. Ralph Gibson, Mr. Aubrey Gibson, Mr. Sidney Grasett, Mr. Ireton, Mr. Young, Mr. Shrum, Mr. Smith and Mr. Arthur Parks. A few of the guests were: Sir Clifford and Lady Sifton, Sir Thomas and Lady White, Brig.-Gen. and Mrs. C. H. Mitchell, Mrs. Arthur, Mrs. Fisk, Prof. and Mrs. Vander Smissen, Mr. Justice and Mrs. F. Hodgins, Prof. and Mrs. Lang, Bishop and Mrs. Sweeney, Mrs. Victor Cawthra, Prof. Pelham Edgar, Mrs. H. D. Warren, Prof. and Mrs. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Starr, Miss Brouse, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Massey, Prof. Baker, Prof. Alexander.

Aims to Advance Teachers' Status

MISS EVELYN JOHNSON, Of London, President of the Federation of Women Teachers, now in annual session.

ling in sand duvetyln suit, with brown hat and squirrel wrap.

BLOWES—HILL.

Mitchell, April 19. (Special).—On Wednesday, April 19, a quiet, but pretty wedding was held at the home of ex-Mayor James Hill and Mrs. Hill, when their eldest daughter, Amy Madeline, was married to Lieut. Arthur W. Blowes, son of Customs Officer A. J. Blowes. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. J. W. Gorodon, in the presence of about forty relatives and friends. The bride was gowned in flame taffeta, with gold shadow lace hat, and wearing a bouquet of white roses. The Wedding March was played by Miss Rae Hill, and the ring-bearer was Miss Alberta Hill. The decorations of the home were pink and white. Lieut. Blowes joined the Flying Corps at Toronto in the spring of 1917, and before leaving for England the following fall he received most of his training north of Toronto. He served eight months with the 62nd British Fighter Squadron, in France, where he did much good work. At Martlesham Heath, England, on the 2nd of January, 1919, in company with Captain Lang of Australia, they established the world's altitude record, going to a height of 30,500 feet. His hands were severely frozen, and had to be dressed every day for three months. On their return from their honeymoon trip, Mr. and Mrs. Blowes will reside in Mitchell.

BALL—OLIVER.

A quiet wedding was solemnized at 2.30 yesterday afternoon in St. Alban's Cathedral by Rev. Canon MacNab, when Gladys Ruth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Oliver, became the bride of Herbert W. Ball, son of Mr. Alfred Ball and the late Mr. Ball. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a frock of navy taffeta and black mulline picture hat. She wore a smart choker of Isabella fox, and carried a bouquet of Columbia and sweetheart roses. Miss Edith Ball, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, and Charles Oliver, brother of the bride, acted as best man. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Ball left for a honeymoon in New York, and on their return will reside in Toronto.

LECTURES ON ART OF READING ALOUD

Prof. Greaves Speaks at Women's Art Association Meeting

The program at the Women's Art Association yesterday afternoon was arranged by Mrs. Jean Blewett, Prof. Greaves of Victoria College lecturing upon the "Art of Reading Poetry ALOUD."

Because a man writes good poetry, it did not always follow that he would read it equally well, said the professor. Much good poetry lost value through poor vocal interpretation, tone color going far toward supplying imaginative and emotional value to words. To read aloud correctly required a thorough understanding of the technique of enunciation and of articulation.

Careful cultivation would make even a bad voice approximately normal; therefore, no public speaker should inflict a harsh nasal intonation upon an audience. Prof. Greaves stated that in a small book, shop in London, kept by a well-known poet, outstanding authors and poets forgot for the purpose of reading aloud their own works, in order more correctly to interpret it to their audiences.

Miss Jessie Carter read from the stories of some Canadian authors, and Mrs. Blewett read two of her own poems.

Election of Officers By Victoria Alumnae

The Victoria College Alumnae Association held its annual meeting and election of officers last evening in Annesley Hall. Miss Laura Denton, President, occupied the chair. Miss M. Skinner, representing the Building Committee, presented a report on the system of residences in the British Empire and the United States. Other interesting addresses were given by Mrs. Sparling and Miss Reva Fleming, both on furlough from China. Mrs. Hodgins, Miss Lawson and Miss J. Edgington gave an enjoyable musical program.

Officers for the ensuing year are: First Honorary President, Mrs. N. Burwash; Second Honorary President, Mrs. R. P. Bowles; President, Miss Edith Adams; First Vice-President, Miss Minna Moyer; Second Vice-President, Miss L. Colbeck; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Carl Rankin; Corresponding Secretary, Miss L. Smith; Committee, Miss M. Adamson, Miss E. Walker and Mrs. J. D. Robins.

Wednesday, when Salda Blanche Whiteside, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Whiteside of Huntsville became the bride of Durnford George Cole, recently of the House of Commons staff at Ottawa, and son of the late Rev. and Mrs. J. S. Cole of Algoma. Only the immediate relatives were present at the ceremony, which was conducted by the Rev. Dr. W. G. Wallace.

CHOATE—HAMMILL.

At St. Stephen's Church, Toronto, the Rev. T. G. Wallace officiating, Miss Esther Louise Hammill, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hammill, Weston, was united in marriage to Herbert R. Choate

Ind

Co

Our des Schools
most ex
pleased

N. 432

No r

SAVE y
curta
your stre
Easy Wa
blankets
bing.

The va
the soap
the mesh
then they through a solved di

You jus
switch an

Capacit
eight dou

Free tr obligation
first paym
from you Free Book

T

COU

A f

you

Ridge

—a

age

the men

WHAT WOMEN ARE DOING

3 June 1922

FINE PROGRAM BY STUDENTS

Margaret Eaton School Pupils Give Classical Readings

LARGE CLASS THIS YEAR

A delightful evening of readings from Shakespeare was given by the senior students of expression of the Margaret Eaton School last evening, when the hall was well filled with an appreciative audience. Mrs. Emma Scott Nasmith, Principal, in a short explanatory address, stated that the present graduating class was the largest in the history of the school, and of the 30 qualified to teach, 12 had specialized in physical education, seven in voice culture and literary and dramatic art, and one in dramatic art. The various numbers, which were rendered with admirable clearness and sympathy, included scenes from the following: "A Winter's Tale," by Lois Howard; "Macbeth," by Margaret Inglis; "Romeo and Juliet," by Helen Parsons; "Twelfth Night," Alice Thompson; "The Taming of the Shrew," by Beatrice Goad; "Hamlet," by Jane Hinds; "The Merchant of Venice," by Lena Sanders, and "Henry VIII," by Marion Perry.

A diverting little French comedy, by M. M. Angier and M. DeMussat, entitled "The Blue Coat," concluded the program. Miss Margaret Inglis gave the prologue in English, and the other characters were taken by Miss Lois Howard, Miss Audrey Mikel, Miss Helen Parsons and Miss Alice Thomson.

COLLINGWOOD REEVE RESIGNS.
Collingwood, June 2.—(Special.)—The Reeveship of the town of Collingwood is vacant, John Mair, who has held the position for a number of years, having resigned owing to ill-health. A by-election will be held on June 16.

Social Notices

A charge of 10c per line (minimum 50c) is made for notices under this heading. Five words to the line.

Orders for insertion of Engagement Notices must bear the name and address of the sender.

Notices under the heading "Announcements" are confined to those for Social, Church, Charitable or Patriotic purposes.

ENGAGEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Symington, Toronto, announce the engagement of their daughter, Winifred Florence, to Mr. Arthur Herbert Richardson, M.A., M.B.F., Toronto, the marriage to take place late in June.

The engagement is announced of Miss Mabel Helen, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Taylor, Delaware ave., Hamilton, to Mr. Francis Oliver Lucas of Toronto, the marriage to take place quietly the end of June.

The engagement is announced of Leona Gordon, only daughter of the late Rev. Herman Russell of India and Mrs. Russell, Toronto, to Dr. Frederick Judson Bell, youngest son of Rev. J. and Mrs. Bell, Toronto, the marriage to take place the latter part of June.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McKinnon, Pine Dale, announce the engagement of their daughter, Delia, to Mr. Lorne Waddell of Lindsay, the marriage to take place in June.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Archibald, Banforth, announce the engagement of their daughter, Annie, to Mr. E. C. Armstrong, E.A., Hartford, Conn., son of Mr. E. J. Armstrong, St. Mary's, Ont., the marriage to take place the end of June.

Social Events

Notices intended for Social Column must be addressed to Society Editor, and bear names and addresses of senders. Telephone numbers, M. 5500 and N. 4411.

Mrs. E. J. Low, Wells street, is visiting in New York.

Lady Alrd entertained at bridge and tea yesterday, in honor of Miss May Black.

Major Van den Berg left town yesterday to spend some weeks in Truro, N.S.

Mr. R. O. Chamberlain and Mr. R. S. Vickers of Montreal are at the King Edward.

Rev. and Mrs. E. J. Allan, Pine Crest road, left Monday for a seven-week visit to their son in Vancouver.

Mrs. J. E. Elliott, who has been in New York and Connecticut for some weeks, is returning to town shortly.

The pupils of Miss Winifred Hicks Lane are giving an evening of song on June 9, in the hall of the Margaret Eaton School.

Mrs. Reid of Glen read entertained at tea yesterday for Mrs. Ernest Wright and Mrs. John Wright, who are going to England shortly.

Mr. R. N. Peake of the Brazilian Consulate, New York, who has been at the King Edward for the past week, is returning to New York today.

Among the guests at Kirkfield Inn are Mrs. M. D. L. Gordon and daughter, Mrs. George Camella, Miss Beck, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph and Mr. Watterman.

Mrs. Hamilton B. Willis has returned to her home, 133 Crescent road, after a five-month trip through Europe, as the guest of Sir Percival and Lady Perry.

The marriage of Miss Joan Lillian McNair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel McNair, to Mr. Harry George Fletcher, takes place on Saturday, June 10.

A delightful miscellaneous shower was given by Mrs. Bruce Dargid, Wilson avenue, on Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Mary (Sid) Macdonald, an early June bride.

Celestial and Mrs. Gillman, Colonel and Mrs. Benson, Major and Mrs. Stuart Forbes and the other officers of the Royal Canadian Machine Gun Brigade left for Niagara on Thursday.

Mrs. Walter H. McClellan gave a kitchen shower and dance at her home, 409 Parkside drive, last evening in honor of Miss Marion Derry Hungerford and Mr. Alex. Romeril, a bride and groom of next week.

The marriage of Miss Madeline Clara Treiter, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Cecil Treiter, to Mr. Cyril Hurd Broughall, son of Canon and Mrs. Broughall, will take place at 2.30 this afternoon, in Grace Church.

Mr. and Mrs. G. MacMillan Marshall of London, England, have arrived in Toronto, and will spend the summer with Mrs. W. D. Hodgson of Heath street, at her summer residence, at Centre Island. Mrs. Marshall was, before her marriage, Miss Josephine Hodgson of Toronto.

While the Royal Canadian Yacht Club's

new building is not completed, the program will be carried out as far as possible, and the first informal dance will be held on Wednesday evening next, June 7, from 8 to 11, for members only and ladies. The dining-room will not be open until Saturday next, June 10.

Miss Reid and Miss Cole of Branksome Hall are giving a garden party for Madam Leduc this afternoon from 4 to 6 in the school grounds to give her friends an opportunity of saying farewell to her. Madam Leduc is leaving for New York on Monday and sailing for Belgium the middle of June.

The Brantford lady golfers were entertained yesterday by the ladies of the Mississauga Golf Club to luncheon and tea. During the afternoon the match was played, resulting in a win for the visiting team. On Thursday the competitions at Mississauga were won by Mrs. Agar and Mrs. Crocker. The tea hostesses were Mrs. Crocker, Mrs. Cumming and Mrs. Roy Miller.

A delightful eighth birthday party was given by the Glen Mawr Old Girls' Association yesterday. Mrs. Mardette, the President of the association, received, with Miss Stuart, the lady Principal, Miss G. Bog, Miss Macpherson and Miss Chalcraft were in charge of the tea table, which was prettily decorated with the school colors, pale blue and dark blue. Miss Madeline Houston looked after the candy booth.

In advance of the demonstration of the evening camp fire given by the Girl Guides of the four Haverhill Colleges, Mrs. Beal of Remedial Haverhill entertained at dinner last night. The table was very attractively done in the college colors, yellow, white and green, with marguerites and yellow tulips. The guests included Miss Knox, Lady Pollatt, Mrs. H. D. Warren, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Ruddy, Miss Wood, Miss Dykes, and Miss Houghington.

The eighth annual birthday party of the Glen Mawr Old Girls' Association was held yesterday afternoon at Glen Mawr School, Miss Stuart and Miss Mardette acting as hostesses. There were about one hundred guests, and the tea hostesses were Mrs. Ernest Wright, Miss Macpherson and Miss Elsie Chalcraft. A number of the school girls assisted in the dining-room and the candy booth was in charge of Miss Madeline Houston and Miss Alison Cuthbertson.

herchief shower at the home of her aunt, Mrs. David Crombie, Bedford Park, for Miss Dorothy Barker, a much-feted bride, whose marriage to Mr. Arnold Taylor takes place on June 7. The handkerchiefs were "showered" on the bride-to-be from the balcony of the living-room, from which hung a much-honored bridal veil. Mrs. W. O. Barker and Mrs. J. D. Comlin were in charge of the tea table, which was prettily decorated with orchids, sweet peas and red roses. Miss Margaret Pratt, Miss Ethel Ayre, Miss Madeline Sygne and Miss Kay Drennan assisted.

Weddings

FLORISSIMO-ROSS.

The marriage was solemnized on Thursday, June 1, at 3 o'clock at St. Paul's Church, Bloor street, of Anne Joan, daughter of the late Dr. J. P. W. Ross and Mrs. Ross, to Goldwin Orford Fleming, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Fleming. Rev. Canon Cuddy conducted the ceremony, assisted by Bishop Archeson of Connecticut. Dr. Alexander Davies played the wedding music. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. Douglas Ross, wore a beautiful wedding dress of pale pink charmeuse wedding at noon on Thursday, when Jean Macgregor, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McKerracher, was married to Norman Francis Sheppard, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Sheppard of Brantford. Rev. H. D. McCue officiating. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a lovely gown of white crepe and was escorted in procession by her bridesmaids, who were dressed in white, with white and orange blossoms and lined with marigold georgette. She carried a shower bouquet of sunset roses, lilies of the valley and white heather. The bridesmaids were Miss Mildred Johnston and Miss Gertrude Black. The wedding music was played by the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. J. G. McKerracher, and during the

PRETTY SURPRISE FOR EACH MOTHER

Unique Feature of Flower Festival Was Children's Presentations

The most delightful of entertainments took place at the Normal School yesterday morning, when 33 charming little lads and lasses and their admiring parents and friends enjoyed together the Flower Festival which marks the official closing of the kindergarten year.

The room was prettily decorated with yellow and white streamers and with quantities of flowers, but no more lovely flowers were to be seen than the daintily-dressed little girls who took part in the ever-pleasing occupations and games of the kindergarten.

Quite the prettiest ceremony was the presentation to mothers of the pretty May baskets "all filled with gay poems and leaves of fresh green," the donors being the kiddies themselves, who explained in a song that each was "sent by someone who loves you right well." The baskets, which were constructed of delicately-shaded cardboard, were made by the wee tots in class, and were given to their delighted recipients with evident pride and satisfaction.

About 35 kindergarten teachers-in-training were also present, and sang a chorus together. A duet, entitled "Oh the Merry Birds of Spring," was sung by two of the teachers, Miss Parish and Miss Cheeseman.

Miss McIntyre and Miss Cody received the guests, and Principal Ratcliffe was present for the exercises.

To Offer Fine Prizes For Children's Flowers

The unqualified success of last year's campaign of the children's department of the Rose Society of Ontario has encouraged the officers and members to repeat the experiment this season, and an appeal has been sent out to the Toronto schools to stimulate interest in the project. Last year 113 boys and girls exhibited their roses, and it is hoped that the record will be surpassed this year. Substantial prizes will be donated, as formerly, by a number of interested persons.

travelling in navy blue tulle, with hat to match.

FURDY-ALLEY.

A pretty wedding took place at the Church of the Redeemer yesterday afternoon, when Nellie, eldest daughter of Mr. Alley and the late James H. Alley of Blenheim, Ont., England, became the bride of Jack Purdy, only son of Mrs. Purdy and the late Robert W. Purdy of Durham England. The bride, who was given away by her brother, James Alley, wore a mauve homespun suit, with French hat to match, and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. James Alley, sister-in-law of the bride, who was matron of honor, wore navy blue satin and georgette. Mr. Dave Forrest was best man, and the ushers were Messrs. Steve Evans, Rodger Jones, Charles Campbell. Following the ceremony a reception was held at 14 Wilson street. Mr. and Mrs. Purdy left later for their honeymoon across the lake, the bride travelling in a navy blue garb and blue silk hat to match.

MACKEEN-STRONG.

We Bk
ma
ant
suf
the
is pur
ors
m ions

cast

St. Hilda's College School, Port Hope. The memorial is presented by the Ladies' Guild in memory of the 121 boys who fell in the war. It will be dedicated by the Rev. Dr. Bethune.

St. Hilda's College Alumnae Association held its annual dance in Convocation Hall at Trinity College last night in honor of the graduating year. It was a summer dance, College blazers and flannels being in evidence. The patronesses were Mrs. Cockshutt, Lady Pellatt, Mrs. Seager, Mrs. McLaughlin, Miss Cartwright and Mrs. J. B. Strathy. The committee included Miss Graham, Mrs. Ryan, Miss Cook, Miss Harle and Miss Scott.

A candy shower in aid of Rosary Hall garden party was held yesterday afternoon at Rosary Hall, Bloor street east. Miss Florence Boland, President of the Guild, assisted by the Vice-Presidents, Miss O'Donoghue and Miss Lamb, received the guests. Mrs. John M. Ferguson acted as tea hostess, and Mrs. Kenneth Fitzpatrick and Mrs. Lamburn presided at the tea table, which was beautiful with iris and bridal wreath. The members of the Hall Guild assisted.

The outstanding social event of last night was the brilliant reception to the distinguished visitors and guests following the special convocation for conferring honorary degrees in Convocation Hall. Sir Robert and Lady Falconer received. Lady Falconer wore a gown of black charmeuse and sequin, Brussels net forming the drapes and sleeves. Among the guests were: His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Cockshutt, with Colonel Fraser in attendance; his Excellency Right Hon. Sir Auckland Geddes, G.C.M.G., K.C.B., P.C., M.D.; Right Hon. Lyman Poore Duff, E.C., B.A., LL.B.; his Excellency Sao-Ke Alfred, Sze, Hon. William Melville Martin, Rev. Henry Carr, Dr. George Crofts, Dr. John Hendersoh, Rev. Charles Allen Seager, Dr. James Mullin, Dr. Arthur Philomen Coleman, Dr. Archibald Byron Macallum, Dr. Henry Rushion Fairclough, Dr. Ferdinand Albert Moore, Dr. Charles Duncan, McGillivray, Principal Hutton, Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Macdonald, Chancellor Howles, Dean C. H. Mitchell, Mrs. Mitchell, Mr. Justice Mac-

Social Notices

A charge of 10c per line (minimum 50c) is made for notices under this heading. Five words to the line.

Orders for insertion of Engagement notices must bear the name and address of the sender.

Notices under the heading "Announcements" are confined to those for Social, Church, Charitable or Patriotic purposes.

ENGAGEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Perrot, Alliston, announce the engagement of their daughter, Alice Muriel, to Mr. Dewitt Kilton Harvey, son of Mrs. James Harvey, Cookstown. The marriage will take place on July 5th.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Chan Ross, Carleton Place, announce the engagement of their daughter, Jean Hamilton, to Reginald Ernest Dowsett, Toronto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Dowsett, Portland; the marriage to take place late in June.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

PRESENTATION OF THE PIPER BY the students of the Margaret Eaton School of Literature and Expression in the Royal Alexandra Theatre Friday, June 3, at 2.15 o'clock. Ticket holders admitted all 21c. When doors will be open to the public.

ROSARY HALL, 144 BLOOR ST. EAST. Garden Party, Saturday, June 10th, 3 to 10 p.m. Light tea, 5 to 7 p.m. Many attractions.

GARDEN PARTY TONIGHT AT COL. McKendrick's, 255 Roxboro' st. west from 7 to 9.30, in aid of fresh air fund. Admission 25c.

Mrs. W. A. Young, Mrs. Joseph Miller, Mrs. F. C. Hanson, Mrs. C.W. Harding, Mrs. Wm. Waller, Mrs. W. G. Haynes, Mrs. W. O. Forsyth, Mrs. Compton, Mrs. H. E. Long, Miss Marion Long, Mrs. Barlow, Mrs. D. B. Dutton, Mrs. Hamilton Jarvis, Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. Abbs, Mrs. L. Skeg, Mrs. E. C. Fox, Mrs. G. H. Waller, Mrs. A. C. Mackie, Dr. Stowe Gullen, Mrs. R. Bruce, Mrs. George Royce.

Weddings

TAYLOR-BARBER.

St. Clement's Church, North Toronto, was the scene of a pretty June wedding on Wednesday afternoon, when Dorothy Victoria, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Gooderham Barber, was united in marriage to Richard Arnold Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Taylor, Rev. Canon Fiddler officiating. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked lovely in a gown of white georgette with overdrapes of pearls and crystals. Her long court train, which hung from the shoulders, was of white georgette with wide bands of satin, over which hung the veil of tulle, and she carried a shower bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley. Mr. Jack Barber was best man. During the signing of the register Miss Edith Hopkins sang, "All Thine Alone." After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's father on Lytton boulevard, where the many guests were received in a bower of summer flowers in the drawing-room. Mrs. Barber was

(ADVERTISEMENT.)

Girls, Don't Wash Your Face

Use Liska cold cream instead (you have never used anything like it). Just try it once, and you will never be without it. Soap and water has a tendency to make the skin rough, and does not cleanse the skin as thoroughly as Liska cold cream. To prove it make this test: Wash your face with soap and water, dry thoroughly, then apply Liska cold cream, massage it well into the skin, then wipe off the superfluous cream with a soft white cloth; examine the cloth and see how much dirt has accumulated thereon. Liska cold cream cleanses, softens and beautifies the skin. For sunburn or after a dusty auto trip there is nothing like it. It's fine after shaving, too. Let hubby or brother try it. Just compare Liska cold cream with any other you have ever used, and you will need no further argument to convince you that it's the best. It's put up in tubes, the only sanitary way. Try it tonight. You will be delighted. At toilet counters everywhere, including G. Tamblin, Limited.

Durily SALT

A pure full-flavored Salt for every Table and Cooking use.

Made in Canada by The Weston Salt Co., Ltd., Carleton Place, Ontario

HORLICK'S
Malted Milk for Infants
A safe milk diet, better than cow's milk alone. Contains rich milk and malted grain extract.

"There's MY lunch! I tell you, fellows, there's nothing like Kellogg's 'WAXTITE' Corn Flakes and cold milk when the thermometer's high! Kellogg's 'WAXTITE' make it possible for me to hustle all day because they digest so easily! I've cut out the heavy stuff, YOU BET!"

Give your stomach
Eat Kellogg's
extra-refreshing w

Agree to eat light feel a lot cheerier a Heavy, greasy foods slow you up physio woman and child wo sustaining, easily d "WAXTITE" Corn

And, eat Kellogg want; let the little fill, for Kellogg's "V only beneficial, but y use plenty of heal tasted more deliciou TITE" Corn Flakes luscious fruits now

Think of Kellogg the perfect breakfast lunch for the hottes and for the dainties evening-meal served

Make sure that each package you buy is sealed air-tight with the wax paper jacket

Kellogg's

Also makers of KELLOGG'S CRUMPLES and R

X21

10 June 1922

WHAT WOMEN ARE DOING

RECALLS DAYS OF CHILDHOOD

"The Piper" at Margaret Eaton School 'Delightful Success'

ATTENDANCE GRATIFYING

Like a thread of finest gossamer was the charming little play presented by the Margaret Eaton School of Literature and Expression at the Royal Alexandra Theatre yesterday afternoon. "The Piper," an English prize production, based on Browning's famous poem dealing with the vicissitudes of the folks of Hamelin, made a distinct impression on the large audience in attendance. There was more than a hint of the fantastic, and just enough of mysticism to add to the enjoyment. In fact, had the setting been Thrums, instead of Hamelin, one might have thought it a Barrie interpretation of the old nursery theme.

Only slight deviation from the original story has been made in the process of dramatization, and it was like living a precious hour of childhood over again to see all the dear familiar characters of the bygone days come to life. One of the very interesting features was the number of pretty dances by the little tots, making a delightful picture in their gay costumes.

Miss Phyllis Strathairn was an admirable "Piper"—in fact, the shining star of the whole production—dancing and piping her way into the hearts of her audience, and showing marked histrionic ability. Miss Aletha Orr, as "Michael, the Sword-Eater," gave an excellent rendition of her part as the love-stricken friend of the Piper, and Miss Alice Thomson, in the intriguing guise of "Cheat-the-Devil," was favorably received. An unusually good bit of acting was done by Miss Lois Howard as "Veronika," the wife of Kurt and mother of Jan, the lame child who was the last to follow the Piper and his horde of children to the hollow hill. Mention should be made also of Miss Jane Hinds, who, as "Barbara," the sweetheart of "Michael," showed uncommon talent.

Other members of the cast included: Miss Helen Parsons, as "Jacobus, the Burgomaster"; Miss Lena Sanders, as "Kurt, the Syndic"; Miss Margaret Inglis, as "Peter, the Cobbler"; Miss Audrey Mikel, as "Hans, the Butcher"; Miss Beatrice Goad, as "Axel, the Smith"; Miss Beatrice Moss, as "Martin, the Watch"; Miss Evelyn Wilson, as "Peter, the Sacristan"; Miss Marion Perry, as "Anselm, a young Priest"; Miss Josephine Armstrong, as "Old Claus, a Miser"; Miss Nora MacLennan, as the town crier; Miss Dorothy Murphy, as the wife of "Hans"; Miss Andreanna Williams, as the wife of "Axel"; Miss Lucille Chambers, as the wife of "Martin"; and Miss Rena Harvey, as "Old Ursula." Miss Florence McGee, Miss Margaret Pyke, Miss Dorothy Silvers, Miss Mary Clark, Miss Marian Elliott, Miss Frances Wilfred Moore and Miss Eva May Boyle were a few of the children.

LAW ENFORCEMENT MUCH APPRECIATED

At the closing session of the annual meeting of the Toronto District W.C.T.U., the Committee on Resolutions reaffirmed the principles for which the organization was incorporated, expressed its appreciation of the law enforcement agencies, and urged that the public should be educated to the importance of law.

Social Events

Notices intended for Social Column must be addressed to Society Editor, and bear names and addresses of senders. Telephone numbers, M. 5400 and N. 4444.

Dr. Forbes Godfrey, M.P.P., and Mrs. Godfrey have returned from Italy.

Mrs. F. C. Armstrong, Tyndall avenue, is the guest of Mrs. P. A. Nancekivell of Brantford.

Brig.-Gen. H. F. McDonald of Vancouver arrived in town yesterday and is staying at the King Edward.

Hon. A. P. Barnhill and Mrs. Barnhill of St. John, N.B., are guests at the King Edward during their stay in town.

The many friends of Mrs. Dalton Davies will be pleased to know that she is recovering from pleurisy in the General Hospital.

Mrs. J. P. Argue and the Misses Lella and Florence Argue of Ottawa have arrived in town to attend the Havergal closing. Mrs. Argue is staying at The Alexandra.

The patronesses for the Lady Ross Chapter theatre party on Monday evening are Mrs. Angus MacMurray, Miss McLennan, Mrs. W. R. Jackson. His Worship Mayor Maguire has also accorded his patronage.

Havergal College old girls and their children were entertained yesterday afternoon by Miss Knox at a garden party at Havergal-on-the-Hill. The present girls of Havergal College entertained at a dance last night in honor of the old girls. Tonight the old girls are giving a surprise party to the present students.

On Wednesday afternoon the Misses Barr were the hostesses of a tea given at their home, "Valley Grange," North Grimsby, in honor of their niece, Miss Florence Barr, whose marriage takes place on June 14. Guests to the number of sixty-two showered Miss Barr with many beautiful and useful gifts. The tables which were on the lawn, were prettily decorated with roses and ferns, one of the tea-tables being Japanese hand-work sent by a sister, Miss Lulu Barr, a missionary in Japan. The tea was poured by Mrs. Lawlor, Mrs. J. M. Stewart, Mrs. Arthur Walker and Mrs. C. E. Barr. One of the pleasing features of the occasion was that the mother of the future groom was able to be present after her long illness. The soles rendered by Mrs. West and Mrs. Glidden were much appreciated. At the close of the event Miss Barr feelingly thanked her many friends for their expressions of kindness.

See House was en fete on Wednesday afternoon, when one hundred and fifty clergymen and their wives were entertained at a garden party by Bishop and Mrs. Sweeney. The grounds, with their bright flowers, trim lawns, made a most ideal setting for the delightful gathering. During the afternoon the party visited the cathedral to hear the new organ. The Bishop and Mrs. Sweeney received. Mrs. Sweeney wearing a very becoming dress of blue crepe, embroidered with white beads, and a pearl necklace. The very attractive table was in charge of Mrs. McNab, and the assistants were Miss Limbrick, Miss Broughall, Miss Swallow, Miss Vesey, Miss Vernon and Miss Wallace. Among the guests were Bishop Reeve, Canon Broughall, Canon Fidler, Canon and Mrs. Brain, Canon McNab, Canon Baynes-Raid, Canon McGonigle, Rev. J. H. Stringer, Rev. H. B. Thompson, Rev. and Mrs. Baker-Elliott, Mr. George Bentister, Canon Allen, Canon Dixon, Archdeacon Inglis, Rev. Mr. McCausland, Dr. Seager, Rev. C. V. Plicher, Rev. W. S. Woodcock, Capt. Tupper of Camp Borden, Rev. W. H. Sparks, Rev. N. A. F. Bourne, Mr. R. W. Allin, Mr. David Kemp.

An evening of song was given last evening in the Margaret Eaton Hall by eighteen of Miss Hicks-Lynde's pupils, before a large and appreciative audience. The interesting program consisted of part songs, duets and solos, all of which were enthusiastically received. The stage was artistically arranged with copper bowls of mauve lilies, peonies and honeysuckle. Those taking part in the program were: Mrs. Fawcett Moore, Mrs. Martin Perry, Mrs. David Gourlay, Mrs. Burgess, Mrs. Desardine, Misses, Hilda Filson, Mary Campbell, Dorothy Murphy, Blanche Fells.

Mrs. J. R. Harper, Mrs. William G. Watson, Mrs. Harold Watson, Mrs. Margaret Doreham, Mrs. Harry Beemer, Mrs. G. H. Allen, Miss Vera Knox Allen, Mrs. N. Snyder, Mrs. R. W. Eaton, Mrs. J. H. Bertram, Mrs. George Bertram, Mrs. F. L. Bungay, Mrs. Walter Hensling, Mrs. John Square, Mrs. C. W. Harding, Mrs. Walter Haynes, Mrs. F. Powell, Mrs. James N. Wilson, Mrs. Gerhardt Heintzman, Mrs. J. Earle Smith, Mrs. Ronald Macleod, Mrs. G. F. Watson, Mrs. C. Copp, Mrs. Babayan, Mrs. W. L. McFarland, Mrs. Arthur Rosebuck, Mrs. W. S. Cooper, Mrs. Frank J. Stowe, Dr. Augustus Stowe Gullen, Mrs. C. W. I. Woodland, Miss Helen Woodland, Mrs. James Murray, Mrs. Percival Leadley, Mrs. Leonard Lumbers, Mrs. W. J. McCollum, Mrs. T. H. Hamilton, Miss Shirley Hamilton, Mrs. C. A. Davies, Mrs. John Tate, Mrs. J. W. Prouse, Mrs. Lorne Sinclair, Mrs. Owen Smily, Mrs. Robert Doherty, Mrs. Gilmour Templeton, Mrs. John C. Saul, Mrs. Edward Faulda, Mrs. W. S. Hodgins, Mrs. R. O. Smythe, Mrs. Walter Burr, Mrs. Harry Crowe.

Professors, students, parents and friends lunched out on masses yesterday to the garden party held in the University Quadrangle following Convocation. Along the back-crowd were comfortably seated, while the band of the 48th Highlanders played during the afternoon. Tea tables were arranged under the trees and in large marquees at the far end of the grounds. The colorful ever-changing and moving groups of pretty girls and graduates with their arms filled with gift bouquets, formed an attractive picture. Among those noticed were: Sir Robert Falconer, Principal Morris Hutton, Chancellor Bowles and Mrs. Bowles, Dr. and Mrs. Seager, Rev. Father Kerr, Dean Coleman and Miss Coleman, Dean Primrose and Mrs. Primrose, Mrs. C. H. Mitchell, Dean Pakenham and Mrs. Pakenham, Dr. Vogt and Mrs. Vogt, Dr. G. D. McGillivray, Prof. and Mrs. P. J. McLeish, Dr. J. J. R. McLeod, Prof. Watson, Rev. Dr. Henry Carr, Dr. A. P. Coleman, Prof. Rosburgh, Sir Joseph Flavell, Sir John Gibson, Prof. Keyes, Dr. and Mrs. Clarence Starr, Mrs. F. N. O. Starr, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Forsyth, Prof. and Mrs. McLennan, Mr. and Mrs. Barlow, Mrs. Van Allan from Morrisburg, Mrs. Slauton, Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Lyon, Prof. McCallum, Dr. Johnston, Prof. C. H. C. Wright, Prof. and Mrs. Vandermaesen, Prof. Baker, Prof. Wishart, Prof. Carruthers, Mr. J. C. Patterson, Prof. Currelly, Prof. Parks, Mrs. Smart, Mrs. Moore, Dr. and Mrs. Bryan, Dr. Stowe Gullen, Dr. and Mrs. McKeown, Mrs. Dignan, Dr. and Mrs. P. Goldsmith, Colonel and Mrs. Fraser, Mr. E. A. Hardy, Principal Jafferis, Principal R. A. Gray, Dr. J. P. Hubbard, Dr. S. J. Radcliffe, Dean de Lury, Dr. J. George, Mr. and Mrs. H. Locke, Prof. and Mrs. Carruthers, Mr. Hugh S. Robertson of Stratford, Dr. Ernest Macmillan, Prof. and Mrs. Richard Davidson, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Sanderson, Mr. E. Beagough, Principal Reynolds of O.A.C. Mr. and Mrs. William Frendgarst, Miss Jean Thomas, Dr. and Mrs. Stowe, Prof. J. F. McLaughlin, Miss Davies, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Kirkland, Dr. and Mrs. Lovell Murray, Mrs. Maier, Miss Edith Maier, Dr. and Mrs. McPhedran, Dr. and Mrs. B. P. Watson, Dr. and Mrs. George Locke, Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Bird of Gananoque, Prof. and Mrs. Sandiford, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Johnston, Mr. W. E. MacPherson, Mr. J. W. Daniel, Dr. N. A. Powell, Dr. and Mrs. Peplar, Mr. W. W. Mowbray, Mr. and Mrs. John Jennings, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Clark, Dr. and Mrs. George S. Young, Prof. and Mrs. Richard Davidson, Mr.

FAREWELL DINNER TO MISS JACKSON

Leaves to Take Up Girls' School Work in India

A happy little event took place at an uptown tea room last evening, when a farewell dinner was given in honor of Miss Constance Jackson, who will soon leave to take up work in a girls' school in Northern India under the Foreign Mission Board of the Church of England. Dr. Percy R. Hayward, Secretary of the Religious Education Council of Canada, acted as toastmaster, the toasts being to "Canada," responded to by Mr. Ferris; to "India," replied to by Miss Jean Macdonald, and to the guest of the evening, Miss Winifred Thomas and Miss Dalton responding. Miss Jackson belongs to the city of Quebec, but has been in girls' work in Toronto for the past two years. For one year she served with the Dominion Council, Y.W.C.A., and of late she has been connected with the National Girls' Work Board.

J. B. Chaffee of Ottawa, Mrs. W. C. Noxon, Mrs. Webster of Constantinople, Dr. Fred. Cleland, Dr. R. T. Noble, Prof. and Mrs. Parks, Colonel and Mrs. Donald, Mr. and Mrs. John Garvin, Miss Ruth Lind, Miss Dorothy Tilley, Miss Marion Tilley, Mrs. McKee, Miss Audrey Young, Miss Evelyn Peffer, Miss Sophie Boyd, Miss Lillian Gray, Miss K. McLeod, Miss Marjorie Mearns, Miss Jessie Rodgers, Miss Audrey Hewitt, Miss Phyllis Silk, Miss Edith Gould, Mr. Clark Noble, Miss Hugh Sinclair, Mr. Tom Guthrie, Mr. Ross Ryrie, Mr. Kenneth Knozen, Mr. J. Taylor, Dr. McPaul, Dr. J. A. Johnston, Mr. Eddie Rolph, Miss Lynette Maybee, Miss K. Schorman, Miss Laurie Harris, Miss Mary Needler.

Mrs. William Squire and her daughter have returned with Mrs. W. H. Banks from Hollywood, California, and will spend the summer in Canada.

Weddings

MARSHALL-INGRAM.

The marriage was solemnized on Wednesday, June 7, at 5 o'clock, at Davenport Road Presbyterian Church, of Beatrice Irene, only daughter of Mrs. Ingram, and the late Jas. Ingram, to William H. Marshall. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. Dr. J. Ellison of Runnymede Presbyterian Church, a former pastor of the bride. Mr. Harold Williams played the wedding music. The bride, who was given away by her uncle, Mr. Theo Caldwell of Newmarket, wore a wedding dress of radium lace over champagne satin, her only ornament being a string of pearls, the gift of the groom. Her filmy veil of embroidered tulle was caught with a band of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of Opheelia roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Ruby Parkhouse of Barrie, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Mr. Theo Marshall acted as his brother's best man. The ushers were: Mr. J. Marshall and Mr. R. S. Ingram of St. John, N.B. During the signing of the register, Mr. Geo. Foster of Barrie sang "The Crown." Following the ceremony a reception was held at 1048 Davenport road. Mrs. Ingram, mother of the bride, was assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. Theo Forbes, sister sister of the groom. Later Mr. and Mrs. Marshall left for their wedding trip down the St. Lawrence, the bride travelling in a pretty costume of blue Russian crepe, with sand trimmings and cape, with hat to match.

WEBSTER-RICH.

A pretty wedding was solemnized on June 7, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rich, Oakwood, when their only daughter, Laura V., became the bride of Roy A. Webster, only son of Mr. and Mrs. James Webster, also of Oakwood, the Rev. J. A. Connell officiating. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a beautiful

Social Notices

A charge of 10c per line (minimum 50c) is made for notices under this heading. Five words to the line.

Orders for insertion of Engagement notices must bear the name and address of the sender.

Notices under the heading "Announcements" are confined to those for Social, Church, Charitable or Patriotic purposes.

ENGAGEMENTS

AT WOMEN ARE DOING

TYPE, S NEED

Amplifies Sir eddes'
k
MEN PLAY

4, cultural edu-
Sir Auckland
ocation of the
and the quesadian institu-fulfilling that used by Professional service for ation of St.
in the chapel
esterday morn-
said Provost came together

one sounding giving indica-
that need was
was Sir Auck-
which he em-
of Canadian students on ones that the
of Canada's met. The he conferring was on over invited ques-
r educational
ing the office
and.

ation. In its
that need
e might be nswer, in a s yes."

on the no-
Sir Auckland
iversity gradu-
in terms of lips. "If we us, virtually,
e must carry
he said. Ho
alling off in s taking and were what id, in respect
In institu-
St. Hilda's
ducation was

es which de-ates, he de-
what place in her influence
thing in our herefore, for one central importance of ion, out of judgment
issues in the
and of our only men
knowledge and he said.

pers
mbulance
e globe.)
he substan-
fed yester-illary to the e successful
ers.

oes on their white line
which can and closely mean "an ations were ing rows of erest. The to raise business a hospital.
ready been
t Society
s Victoria

Mother's Market Basket

Unsteadiness in the price of butter caused some speculation among shoppers on the St. Lawrence Market on Saturday as to the possibility of a not-too-far-distant general decline. In spite of the fact that more cream is being sold since the commencement of the dog days, a drop of from 5 to 10 cents a pound for dairy butter was recorded during the last week, and on the week-end market several reliable makes could be had for 45 cents. In other sections the old price of 43 to 45 cents still prevailed, however.

Eggs on the other hand, had gone up, the average quotation being 55 or 58 cents a dozen. Extraordinary large goose eggs sold at 15 cents apiece. Green stuff was there in tempting array, and only a few changes in price were to be noted. Spinach was 10 cents a peck, head lettuce 10 cents each, onions, three or four bunches for 10 cents, radishes three for 10 cents, rhubarb three bunches for 10 cents, asparagus 10 to 15 cents a bunch. A few boxes of the first Canadian strawberries were being offered at 55 cents a box. Supplies promise to be more plentiful next week.

Spring ducks, which had been very slow of sale on their first appearance several weeks ago, were down 10 cents, to 55 cents a pound. Spring chickens brought 75 cents, and boiling fowl 37 to 40 cents.

The fish man had frogs' legs at 50 cents a pound, fresh boiled lobster at 30 cents, fresh eels at 15 cents, rock turbot, whitefish, fresh smelts and red spring salmon, 30 cents a pound, mackerel and perch 15 cents, lake and sea herring 10 cents, rock salmon, skate, cod and silver hake 15 to 20 cents.

Meat prices showed little change. Beef brisket sold at 10 cents a pound, rib roasts 25 to 28 cents, shoulder roasts 12 cents and chuck roasts 12 cents. Shoulders of pork sold at 20 cents, and loins at 35 cents a pound.

Social Events

Notices intended for Social Column must be addressed to Society Editor, and bear names and addresses of senders. Telephone numbers, M. 5400 and N. 4444.

Mrs. J. W. James is entertaining at tea on Friday.

Mr. John Jellett is returning from Atlantic City this week.

Mr. George Snowball is visiting friends in Aberdeen, Scotland.

Mrs. Gansong is leaving this week for St. Andrews-by-the-Sea.

Mrs. L. A. Richardson is visiting Mrs. W. H. Bagshaw in Ottawa.

Miss Janie Wallace spent the week end in Kingston with Mrs. Phillips.

Mr. and Mrs. Eaten Fletcher and family are on pension at "The Pines" in Bloor street east.

Mrs. Frank Smith is leaving town this week for her country house on the St. Clair River.

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Bain and family are leaving this week for England, sailing on the Adriatic.

Miss Vera McLean, who is to be married on Wednesday, is giving a trousseau today at 23 Brampton Gardens.

Mrs. J. Townsend and Mrs. J. H. Noble leave on Tuesday for a three weeks' trip to Quebec and the lower St. Lawrence.

Miss Madeline de Boyres, a young Montreal Journalist, who has been in town for a day or so, left for home last night.

The "Tavern Club," consisting of graduate nurses, is giving a bridge and soiree at the Italian Garden, Sunnyside Pavilion, on Monday afternoon.

Mr. Lewis W. Clements has left the west coast of Old Mexico and San Diego, and has returned to Los Angeles for the Rotary Club convention.

Miss Stuart and Miss McPherson have sent out cards for the closing exercises and prize-giving at Glen Mawr School on Monday, June 12, at 10 a.m.

Miss Mildred McMorris of Los Angeles is coming back to Canada some time in the early autumn for a visit, and will spend a few days in Toronto.

Mrs. C. H. Carpenter and her family left for their house in Muskoka on Saturday. Mr. Carpenter, who is in Halifax, will join them at the end of this week.

The charming play, "The Piper," which was performed at the Royal Alexandra Theatre on Friday afternoon, and caused so much interest, was produced by Mrs. Francis Moore (nee Dora Mayor).

Miss Francis Pearce, 97 Dufferin street, who was recently graduated from the Margaret Eaton School, and a college friend, Miss Mona Miller, of Victoria, Miss Agnes Quigley of Nova Scotia, Miss Josephine McArthur of Washburn, Ont., and Miss Clara Pease of England.

Miss Helen Woodland entertained at a dinner dance at the Lambton Club, on Saturday night. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. C. W. L. Woodland, Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Tiedall, Miss Carmen Parr, Miss Peggy Foster, Miss Dorothy Davies, Miss Marjorie Moore, Miss Doris Hays, Miss Shirley Lind, Miss Betty Erickson, Miss Sylvia Lyth, Miss Marion Goss, Miss G. G. Lillian Wright, Miss Margaret Diamond, Miss Margaret Kemp, Mr. Charles Hayes, Mr. W. Dewar of Ottawa, Mr. T. Dewar, Mr. Paul Meredith, Mr. Paul Sheard, Mr. Alfred Hart, Mr. Jack Tyrrell, Mr. Woolfson, Mr. Alfred Davidson, Mr. R. Hackburn, Mr. Roy Firstbrook, Mr. T. Allan, Mr. Howard Wharton, Mr. Chic Foster, Mr. Harry Tiedall.

The Ladies' Guild of Trinity College School, Port Hope, has presented a Wayside Cross as a memorial to the boys who fell in the war. On Sunday this was dedicated. Among those present were: From Toronto—Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Baldwin, Mrs. William Ince, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon, Mr. Miss Margaret Cayley, Rev. and Mrs. C. B. Darling, Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Strathby, Mr. Ernest Heaton, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Dyce Saunders, Mr. and Mrs. Brown, Col. and Mrs. George Watts, Major and Mrs. C. J. Inglis, Miss Walsh and Miss MacDonald of Bishop Strachan School, Gen. and Mrs. Cartwright. From other points—Mrs. Roper, Ottawa; Mrs. Duncanson of Kingston, Canon Daw and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bethune of Hamilton; Col. C. R. McIntosh of Ottawa; Principal H. L. Griffith of Ridley College, St. Catharines, and a number of others.

Miss Hope Morgan entertained delightfully at her residence on Lowther avenue on Saturday afternoon, the occasion being a recital of song given by her junior pupils. The pretty studio, with its old rose hangings and great bowls of peonies and roses, made a charming setting for the young students, whose singing was much enjoyed by a large number of their friends. Among those taking part were Miss Isabel Carlin of Syracuse, in pale blue organza; Miss Rosemary Fortner, in lettuce green voile; Miss Pearl Smith of Belleville, in smart hearse chamois; Miss Edna Crawford, in black radium lace over blue; Miss Pauline Desjardins, in white muslin, with orchid trimmings; Mr. George O'Neill and Mr. Roberts Williams. The tea table, arranged with centre of embroidered linen and lace, and large blue bowl filled with yellow spring flowers, was presided over by Mrs. Hopkirk and Miss J. Morgan.

Rosedale athletic club was on fête on Saturday afternoon, when the Rosedale Community Club gave the

King
and Victoria
Streets

69th Anniversary
1853-1922
MURRAY
COMPANY - LTD.

Tuesday---Nothing to Match

Knitted Capes Continue in Favor

And They Are Special Tuesday At $8.50

There are innumerable times when a knitted cape is handy. They are smart, good looking and lightweight, just the thing to wear over the dainty party frock, or for motoring, beach or street wear. Come in accordeon-pleated styles in two-tone effects. Brushed wool collars and trimmed down the front, fastened with cord with ball ends. Combined shades are Camel and Turquoise Blue, Gray and Henna, Brown and Jade Green, Navy and Henna, Tan and Camel.

Main Floor.

Sale

Strap In Su

The bulk of this hundred pairs in flapper last and combination of we've added pumps and Oxfords

What W Lake Br Electric

Like a breeze from cool and comfortable night, and no more than a cent an hour be carried from any place. Universal and rent, three speeds. It's an 8-inch fan, feet to hold it steady and 2-piece plug in

The Big June Sale Has Brought the Price of These Hand-embroidered Pillow Cases Down to $1.98 Pair

A really extraordinary value, for the pillow cases are the finest Irish Cotton and in size 22 inch x 36 inch, while the ends are hemstitched and prettily hand-embroidered. It is the quality that is usually nearly twice $1.98. Brides-to-be, as well as experienced housekeepers, will be enthusiastic about these lovely pillow cases. On sale 8.30 Tuesday.

M-K Silk Stockings with the Guarantee, in White as Well as Many Summer Colors, $2 Pair

Before You Buy Your White Silk Hosiery for Summer, See Our $2 Guaranteed Stockings—If You Don't Know About Them Already

The printed guarantee we give with every pair of M-K Special Silk Stockings is more than an assurance of perfect quality, though that, of course, is included. It is an agreement to take back any pair of stockings that is not satisfactory to you, for any reason whatever. Unless they give you the fullest return for the price length of service, fit, smartness, we ask you not to keep them. Without a word protest we'll exchange them for a new pair.

They are of silk of an unusual quality, fine and cool, with elastic tops, spliced heels and toes. Besides a complete assortment in White, there are Black, Navy, Chestnut Brown, Beige, Grey, Smoke, Dark or Medium Brown, and in each there's every size, 8½ to 10.

TEAPOT
monstrate why
"LADA"
TEA
NO EQUAL
sale in America.

Bolsheviki at Batum
Capture British Vessel
(Associated Press Despatch.)
Constantinople, Aug. 11.—The British steamship George was captured by the Bolsheviki at Batum last week, it was reported here today. The passengers were held for three days afterward being transferred to the French steamer Tadia.

THE MOLSONS BANK

Incorporated 1855

Capital and Reserve
$9,000,000

128 Branches in Canada

Don't keep your money in the house. It is both safe and useful to you in a Savings Account with us. Interest compounded every six months—makes its amount larger day by day.

5 Branches
In Toronto

TOW LINE CAPSIZES TUG IN N.Y. HARBOR

Two Seamen Are Drowned
and Four Picked Up by Steamers

(Associated Press Despatch.)
New York, Aug. 11.—The tugboat Clarence P. Howland was overturned and sunk in an odd accident off Staten Island today, when a tangled tow line caused her to capsize and two members of her crew of six lost their lives.

The tug was towing the Texas Steamship Company's steamer Rona to the Erie Basin, and when she slowed down the steamer floated by, causing the slack hawser to become looped under the tug's stern. The tug was whipped over on her side in an instant, and disappeared within two minutes.

Four of the crew were picked up by passing steamers and landed at St. George, S. I.

Short Course in Journalism

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO
September 11th to 16th, 1922
This is a practical course in editorial writing and news gathering arranged at the request of and in co-operation with the Canadian Weekly Newspapers' Association. Twenty-five lectures will be given. The course is open to anyone interested in journalism. The fee is $2.00. Particulars will be mailed on application to the Department of University Extension, University of Toronto, Toronto.

Telescope Service

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO
The two telescopes owned by the University of Toronto are set up for the free use of the public in front of Convocation Hall each Wednesday evening, weather permitting, during August, from 8.30 to 11 p.m. If Wednesday evening is unsuitable Thursday evening is taken. Department of University Extension, University of Toronto, Toronto.

Glenn Mavor
651 SPADINA AVENUE
TORONTO
RESIDENTIAL AND DAY SCHOOL FOR GIRLS
Principal - MISS J. J. STUART
(Successor to Miss Venable)
Chaired Lanes, Hamilton University, England.
Large, well-ventilated house, pleasantly situated. Highly qualified staff of Canadian and European teachers. The curriculum shows close touch with modern thought and education. Preparation for matriculation examinations. Special attention given to individual needs.
Outdoor Games
School Re-Opens September 26th New Prospectus from Miss Stuart.

MCGILL UNIVERSITY
MONTREAL

Faculty of Medicine

For the session 1922-23 the number entering the First Year of this Faculty will be limited to one hundred.

The standard of admission is Senior Matriculation or First Year in Arts or the equivalent.

For further information apply to

THE REGISTRAR.

Moulton College

For Girls

Residential and day school. Staff of qualified specialists in each department.

Matriculation, Music and English Courses. Senior and Junior Departments, Sewing, Art and Physical Culture.

Re-opens Sept. 13th, 1922.

Calendar sent on application.

Ernestine R. Whiteside, B. A., Principal.

34 Bloor St. E., Toronto.

Woodstock College

Founded 1857.

Preparation for Science and Arts, Matriculation, Normal Entrance, Commercial Diploma. First Canadian School to introduce Manual Training.

College Life

Comfortable residence, personal attention by efficient teachers, well-equipped gymnasium, swimming pool, commodious campus, good meals, moderate rates; the place for your boy to get a sterling education in a Christian environment.

Fall Term Begins Tues., Sept. 13th.

For Calendar write

PRINCIPAL WEARING, M.A., Ph.D.
Woodstock, Ontario.

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO
TORONTO CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
HIGHEST ARTISTIC STANDARDS—FACULTY OF INTERNATIONAL PRESTIGE
REOPENS SEPTEMBER 1ST, 1922

The Conservatory affords unrivalled facilities for complete courses of study in all branches of music, for professional and non-professional students. The demand for Conservatory graduates throughout the Dominion far exceeds the supply.

Students' Free Orchestral Classes and Free Lectures in Harmony, etc., History and Rudiments of Music, and in Piano Pedagogics (Normal Class Work).

Pupils may enter at any time.

Conservatory Year Book and Syllabus for Season 1922 and 1923, and Women's Residence Calendar, will be mailed on request.

The Canadian Academy of Music

TORONTO

President: COL. A. E. GOODERHAM Musical Director: FRANK S. WELSMAN
Albert Ham, Mus. Doc. W. O. FORSYTH
Peter C. Kennedy ERNEST MACMILLAN, Mus. Doc.

An institution which fosters the highest ideals in musical art and education and aims to produce musicians of genuine worth and distinction. The faculty is one of commanding strength, with specialists of the highest excellence and reputation in each department. A record of splendid achievement on the part of its students which has earned for the Academy a place among the most important musical institutions of this continent.

REOPENS SEPTEMBER 1ST

Year Book, Syllabus of Examinations and Residence Pamphlet Mailed on Request.

THE MARGARET EATON SCHOOL of LITERATURE AND EXPRESSION

NORTH STREET, TORONTO.

EMMA SCOTT NASMITH, F.C.M., Principal.

This School Offers Two Normal Courses, Open to Matriculants, for the Training of Teachers in

Physical Education and Dramatic Art

This course, under the direction of Mary G. Hamilton, gives thorough training in the practice and theory of Physical Education.

Each of these courses extends over a period of two years, and a third year's study gives graduation in both.

For Calendar and further information apply to the School, or telephone North 4544. Office hours, 10 to 12 a.m., 2 to 4 p.m.

Ottawa Ladies' College

RESIDENTIAL AND DAY SCHOOL
FOR GIRLS

A
A

THE
me
pro
ma
nothing
in our we you
tunity.
home.

We are vestmen
bilities,
lovestm
and hav
century.
We are
ment w
are doin
43 years
We kno
ed in th
Americ
large co

We are
our ind
We mer
essentia
public i alike.

This is from th
to place
poration
bank, i reference
the con
served t

It is ve
stabil
It costs entire s
are bas facts. I are cons
is not a scheme,
business
a good
we have

If inter stating venience

LAW
821

Name
Address
City
Time

Nose

Hundr
Canada
freed fr features
pretty b bothered
The nos formed—charges
out on b
Some
into the noses an an annoy Little
ing these
and was

h Wales.
the schools
to increasing and kindred
of pupils in all sorts is to enlarging the old plots, and,
the Gov-
purchase small country schools
may obtain erience. The has decided to a radius of

and this one city) is put nals. Then, ought the brought into cross the ter-coll. In a lly a 21 plate
day you appre-
amateurs to their experi-

HARINES &
TON CO.

vice.

harines & To-that their fall
become effec-Commencing
12 p.m. trips
nd only one ated, leaving ousie 5 p.m.
with connec-N.Y., and all peninsula. In 11 a.m. and ort Dalhousie steamer will except Sun-
n both direc-
withdrawn.—

IS

Fingers.

Drop a little ing corn, in-urting, then at off with tiny bottle
cents, suff-
hard corn,
en the toes,
out soreness

associations there.
My third school was the Whittington School, Highgate (girls). I was at the Whittington for two months, until the Christmas holidays, two of the happiest months in all the year.

Jewish School.

My fifth school was the Westminster Jews' Free School, Han-way street. This was the first school for Jews, that I saw in London. The morning opening prayers were most impressive. The religious atmosphere of that school, directed by the staff, was most apparent. The girls were noticeably neat in their dress, not the slightest trace of poverty surroundings evident, the teachers priding themselves on their personal supervision of each girl, seeing that no pupil wanted for clothing or food. I received great kindness from all members of the staff while there.

My sixth school was the Bath Street School, Finsbury (girls),
where I spent a month. This school was the first school opened under the Foster Education Act, 1871.

The school as it now stands was built in 1882, having an accommodation for 475 girls, 475 boys and 480 infants. It is always full, and, as in all the Council schools of the

My sixteenth school, and last school, was the Sounders Road School, Shepherd's Bush (boys). At Shepherd's Bush I began the eventful year and at Shepherd's Bush I ended.

Gathered from one of the poorest districts of the Great Metropolis (bordering on the borough of Kensington), these pupils loved their life in school, where the headmaster and the assistant masters were so kindly interested in them.

I shall remember the beautiful morning in July when I took forty boys of my class away up to Kensington Gardens to see the statue of "Peter Pan," whose friend they were in their school studies. I shall remember the interest they took in the beautiful Dutch Gardens looking at the flowers, the little family of Moor-hens—of their interest in the statue of Queen Victoria, and of how they listened as I told them of the 24th of May being a national holiday in Canada, and all the overseas Dominion, because it was the birthday of this great, good Queen. I shall remember their interest in the Round Pond
and in the Serpentine, with "Peter Pan" watching silently on—amidst his emerald surroundings, and the swans and other water fowl, and,

The Margaret Eaton School of Literature and Expression

North Street, Toronto

EMMA SCOTT NASMITH, F.O.M., Principal

This School offers Normal Courses, open to Matriculants, for the Training of Teachers in Physical Education, English Expression and Dramatic Art. Each of these courses extends over a period of two years, and a third year's study gives graduation in both.

Mr. Charles M. D. Sparrow of London, England, a new member of the Staff of this School, is arranging special classes for Professional and Business Men in Public Speaking, Speech Training and Dramatic Art.

School opens September 14th

For calendar and further information apply to the School, or telephone North 4544.

Niagara Falls College For Boys

A Modern Residential School
for Boys.

Courses—Junior Boys; Entrance
and Commercial, Senior Boys; Junior and Senior Matriculation
for all Canadian universities.
Royal Military College, Royal Naval College and Commercial Classes.

Courses in charge of specialists. Thirty acres grounds and campus.

Principal—H. G. Arnold, B.A.
For Calendar write Lieut. G.
I. Arnold, B.S.A., Vice-Principal,
Niagara Falls, South, Ont.

GlenMawr 651 SPADINA AVENUE TORONTO

RESIDENTIAL AND DAY
SCHOOL FOR GIRLS

Principal - MISS J. J. STUART
(Successor to Miss Fennell)

Classical Types, Cambridge University, England.
Large, well-ventilated house, pleasantly situated. Highly qualified staff of Canadian and European teachers. The curriculum shows close touch with modern thought and education. Preparation for matriculation examinations. Special attention given to individual needs.

Outdoor Games
School Re-Opens - New Prospectus
September 1st - from Miss Stuart.

ONTARIO COLLEGE OF ART
Grange Park, Toronto
DRAWING-PAINTING-MODELLING-DESIGN
DIPLOMA COURSE - JUNIOR COURSE
TEACHER'S COURSE - COMMERCIAL-ART
G.A. REID R.C.A. Principal.

Session 1922-3 opens October 2.
Prospectus mailed on application.

Saint Andrew's College

A Canadian School
For Boys

Located in North Rosedale, an attractive suburb of the City of Toronto. The aim of the Board of Governors of St. Andrew's College is the moral, mental and physical development of boys entrusted to them. Athletics are considered an important part of school life and are examined and recommended the kind of sport best adapted to him. The staff consists of masters and specialists, in addition to the headmaster. The curriculum takes a boy through Lower School into the Upper School and prepares him, without a break in his course, for universities, the Royal Military College or for business. Autumn Term begins September 13th

For Further Information and Calendar, apply to Rev. D. BRUCE MACDONALD, M.A., LL.D., Headmaster, St. Andrew's College, Toronto, Can.

The Canadian Academy of Music

TORONTO

President:
COL. A. E. GOODERHAM

Musical Board:

Musical
FRANK S.

ALBERT HAM, Mus. Doc. W. O. FORBES
PETER C. KENNEDY ERNEST MACMILLAN, Mus.

An institution which fosters the highest ideals in musical art tion and aims to produce musicians of genuine worth and distinguished faculty is one of commanding strength, with eminent special department. A record of splendid achievement on the part of has earned for the Academy a place among the most important institutions of this continent.

REOPENS SEPTEMBER 1ST

Year Book, Syllabus of Examinations and Residence Pamphlet Mailed on Request.

Ottawa Ladies' College

RESIDENCE AND DAY FOR

Founded 1870.

Matriculation Course, Music, Art, Household Science, Geography, Gymnastics and Riding.

For particulars apply to the Principal,

MISS I. J. GALLAGHER,
Reopens September 15th

New First Proce

Ottawa Ladies' College

UPPER CANADA COLLEGE

TORONTO

Autumn term begins Wednesday,
September 1st
at 9.15 a.m.

W. L. GRANT
Principal

Give Your Sons and Daughters
the advantages of an education
at a school of high ideals

Albert College, Belleville

Founded 64 years ago; is a residential school for young men and women. Preparation for University, Ministry, Teaching or business careers.
Special courses in Music, Expression, Physical Culture, etc.
sports encouraged. Splendid accommodation—beautiful grounds.

SCHOOL RE-OPENS SEPT. 12TH.

For calendar and other particulars, write to Rev. E. N. Baker, M.A., D.D., Principal, Belleville, Ont.

the situation when Napoleon. Later
we passed through very different memories, as it was the treat of the British days of the recent
at length—to the
and Warquignies,
something of the great
ed by the mission.
In the coal mining um and a fine work-
ong old and young,
g to observe on the
to the mission at
of the war in the
an official billeting
was described as Quarters for Officers.

"We visited was the
where the mission
significant property, erly part of the res-
e. At Bruges there pool where the chilling and fretwork as al educational sub-
also a Sunday school
all, the work being Pastor Milet, ase and son.

over my week in not help being im-
mber of men at the e character of the
and the distinct so-
the people in the
regard to the last prise to all visitors
people that attend
as an English visiths ago. "They are al mission crowd,"
they are intelligent,
and women and
in their attention
The mission now
ions, covering each nces of Belgium ex-

the preaching of a free, full forgiveness of sin. Then follows the training of such converts to lives of consecration to God, holiness of life and of service in leading others of their own people to Him. Testimonies abound to the deep need of many people. A student worker said recently:
"I shall never forget the sad complaint of a young man, a soldier in the train, who said to us, with a sigh: 'Oh! If I were as happy as you people are. Oh! That I could possess the peace that you seem to have, and that you speak and sing
about.' This is only one incident among many."

Here is another testimony to the same effect:
"Many a time I have been asked what I was, a Liberal or a Socialist,
and when I told them that I and all our workers were Christians, on the way to heaven, and ambassadors of Christ to bring them the glad tidings of salvation through the Cross of Christ, and further explained to them about the Bible, the answer came, 'We know nothing of these things!'"

Another colporteur tells about a heated conversation with a Socialist whom he encountered:
"At the end of our little talk this man confessed that I was a happier man than he, and that he would indeed like to have the faith I had.
I pointed out to him that he could have it, if he would believe, and pray. We separated wishing each other a quite friendly 'good-night.'"

I left Belgium feeling sincerely
thankful for the testimony and work of this mission. There is no doubt that Mr. and Mrs. Norton and their fellow-workers are doing splendid service, and those who can help it forward with their prayers and gifts
may feel assured that they cannot put their resources to better account.

st-Haunted Esdraelon

geddon Is To Be Fought. By J. Ramsay
Macdonald

Macdonald, noted Brit-one-time Chairman of bor Party of Great
aking a tour of Pales-impressions of the month in the English Outward Bound. In describes a visit to ddon.

maria and of Gall-t each other over
ecion.

nbened the highways Samaritan hills by aul and Jonathan
bilistines, the sun
the sea, the tips of tains were reddened
on Hermon were the hills of Galilee
ndrawing into ance, a tense listen-pon the land, as
as being prepared
ama. I was look-beaten down so t of armies and lly by blood that postle had his vireat battle where verthrown it was s met. "He gather into a place
drew tongue, Ar-
the Greek, Es-

n in such a ghost-
even when night
on the plain by eighboring ridges
also one of these nature for con-

plain almost shut
quite flat when shaped like a tri-which is 20 miles
15. On the right
re Mount Tabor Mile, with Nazathem; on the left looking upon the

the continuity of
of Palestine, and the sea to Da-ast; into it runs
t along the mari-

light which is between the day and the dark, one feels it to be haunted ground.

Jezebel is now but a wayside hamlet by the side of the great north road which crosses the plain. Near by is the Kishon; in winter there are swamps around it, but when I was there the corn was sprouting
through a sticky mud which clung in heavy daubs to my feet. Round this spot the hosts of the Canaanites and of Barak fought, the former marching straight through the gap far to the west, mighty with their
"chariots of iron and all the people,"
the latter waiting, by the foot of Mount Tabor to the north until the moment came to strike. Then upon that stiff soil rain fell and the river
rose; the feet of the horses were encumbered with the clay, and "the river of Kishon swept them away."

At my feet the Kishon flowed, a mere muddy ditch, fallen like an ancient house of great fame upon evil and sordid days. From Jezebel
you look westward to see the ghosts
of that great battle which, by uniting the hill tribes of the northern highlands with those of the south, united Israel. But to the east there are still more stirring memories.

That long hill slope stretching down into the plain close to the village is the shoulder of Mount Gil-boa. I left the high road near Jer-reel, bumped across the fields in a farm cart, stirred the dogs and children of a village to riot, rattled along a stony way downwards to a swampy
hollow which connects Esdraelon
with the Jordan Valley and passes Bethshan as it dips down its last descent, and got out of the cart
where the road crosses a pebbly
bedded stream that rushes out clear and pure from a cave in the hillside.
I stood where Gideon stood watching his army drink and selecting the handful of vigilant ones to fight the Midianites of the desert who were encamped on the plain to the west.
I, too, bent down and drank.

But the night was falling and the shadows were thickening over the low swampy ground below me.
It is not of Gideon that one thinks when night creeps over Gilboa, but of that fated and darkened spirit who here fought his last fight. On the stood to look back upon our road

of the previous evening Christ must have stood, and the voices from Esdraelon must have stirred His heart. Esdraelon, as a stage whereon so many tragedies in Jewish history were played, and a highway along which the pageantry of Jewish life and faith continually moved,
must have spoken bewitchingly to Him of His kindred and their promised destiny. True, He, too, was, in time, to be the cause of more battles and more armies. The plain is dotted with the strongholds of the Crusaders; upon it they fought that last long fight when in that day of fierce heat, July 5, 1187, the Cross was borne down by the Crescent and doomed to lie in the dust till our own
time.

And yet the springtime in its happiest hours can never apparently possess Esdraelon all to itself. Far to the south by the hills of Samaria, on the spot where Holofernes pitched his camp, one sees tents and huts
where there are crowds of men under arms and from which the blares of bugles come. It is the British army of occupation. A column is upon the road. Dust rises thick around it, and drifts like battle smoke across the green fields. I feel as one endowed with the second sight. The dark spirit of mystery returns to Esdraelon. Did the seer on Patmos truly see the doom of this place? I turned away toward Nazareth, and upon my lips came that haunting
prophecy:

They go forth into the kings of the earth and of the whole world to gather them to the battle of the great Day of God Almighty.

and had turned Christian.
Sir James Startin entered the Royal Navy in 1869 at the age of 14.
He became a Lieutenant in 1879,
Commander in 1891, Captain in 1897
and Rear-Admiral in 1907. During the European war he saw service in patrol vessels and "Q" boats. He was a Lieutenant on Queen Victoria's yacht, the Victoria and Albert, from 1889 to 1891. He was with the naval brigade that landed in Egypt in 1882; was in the Zulu war, being mentioned in despatches in both cases; served in China in 1900, and holds both the silver and bronze life-saving medals of the Royal Humane Society. He is also an officer of the Legion of Honor and was a recipient of the Albert medal.
His home is "Wyndlaw," Hayling Island, Hants, England.

For the past few months he has been touring the East, visiting his son in Java.

SHAW

DAY and NIGHT sessions now
open for Business, Shorthand, General Improvement, or Secretarial Courses.
Full details from P. McIntosh, Chief Principal, 46 Bloor West; Telephone
North 830.
ELEVEN SCHOOLS—One Near You.

SCHOOLS

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO TORONTO CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC

Sir Edmund Walker, C.V.O., LL.D., D.C.L., President.
A. S. Vogt, Mus.Doc., Principal.
Hesley Willan, Mus.Doc., F.R.C.O., Vice-Principal.

HIGHEST ARTISTIC STANDARDS. FACULTY OF INTERNATIONAL PRESTIGE.

The Conservatory affords unrivalled facilities for complete courses of study in all branches of music, for professional and non-professional students.
and for Conservatory graduates throughout the Dominion far into the supply.

Residential Free Orchestral Classes and Free Lectures in Harmony, etc., History and Rudiments of Music, and in Piano Pedagogics (Normal Class Work).

PUPILS MAY ENTER AT ANY TIME.
Conservatory Year Book and Syllabus for season 1922-1923, and Women's Residence Calendar, will be mailed on request.

The Canadian Academy of Music

12-14 Spadina Road, near Bloor Street.

President: COL. A. E. GOODERHAM      Musical Director: FRANK S. WELSMAN

Repertoire-Interpretation Classes

Conducted by the Celebrated Pianist,
Arthur Friedheim
Special evening classes are being formed.

The Academy Orchestral Class,

Free to Academy students, will be resumed on October 3rd, under LUIGI VON KUNITZ. PUPILS MAY ENTER AT ANY TIME.

The Margaret Eaton School of Literature and Expression

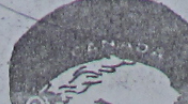

North Street, Toronto
EMMA SCOTT NASMITH, F.C.M., Principal

PUBLIC SPEAKING

For Professional and Business Men. Classes open on Monday evening, October 2nd, at 8 o'clock, under the direction of Mr. Charles M. D. Sparrow, formerly of the Central School of Speech Training, Albert Hall, London, England.

For further information telephone North 4544.

"Let the Clark
Kitchens
help
you"

can help them, but trust in Christ alone
tion from the guilt an
that terrible tragedy.
New Thought, accor
John R. Mott, is swee psychology instead of and living Christ. I questioning was well f
he asked "whether now
had not lost a real sen
meant by sin, conver ness?" It is a delight report says, he ended with the prophecy of "s vival."

According to Prof. A son of Louisville, Ky., Baptists have "grown b bonds through the a waves of revival powe
students have been in revival meetings all t
mer long. Heat does n back from these "ann feasts." More than hal bership of this denom
world are in the South,
them are garnered dur
mer and autumn. Tim
the Methodist Church Canadian Provinces had revival, and this Chur
no less a force for phre
tion and for righteous than it is today. Or too, in intensive study of Christ and equally the ing (through the risen C enriching Church Epist day is surely coming
more the land will ring saying Evangel of the Christ in such a way th will be heaven-sent! Mar
ing for this new effusi Spirit of God. Jehovah will pour water upon h
thirsty and floods upon ground." "His coming i as the dawn" (Hosea 6:3
blessing.

"Are we losing our p souls?" asks an earnest layman in The Life of E don). He then bears this
"I am well on in years
been a regular churchgo greater part of my life
during a long life, mixt
greater part of it in ec circles, only once have spoken to personally by ter of religion on the s
my standing in God's s

He further adds that h
did show his interest in h
to the Lord Jesus. If the Evangelist may be said t urgent, the settled pasto
off his approach to men Undoubtedly, men are Christians of whatever speak. And, too, often o dumb. Numbers of exam leap to one's memory. "I deemed of the Lord say s delegates to the Methodi
ence win some in the ho
they are guests, and so wit
tist delegates that meet three weeks hence. Why groups at these confer meet in some room of the ing church and have war
prayer meetings for reviv soul-winning, personally
licly?

It would appear that it
sible to maintain a Mos
mosque on this continent,
religious edifices of positiv suits—brought from India
ported lavishly in a numbe American cities. Two ye devoted Mohammedan in t Detroit built a mosque w teachings of the Prophet given to the Western worl $55,000. Internal dissens however, and the group w
there soon left. The tax o
of the building as vacant,
owner, Muhahhad Karoub ready to sell the property.

An examination of 139
in a State university showe interesting "knowledge" of according to Professor V Esquires in the Journal of
In answer to the eight e asked, only 84 per cent. e average of 75 per cent; th
for all being under 40 p
Seven per cent. of the stud unable to name a book of Testament, and not one-hal
number could give ten boo

The Margaret Eaton School of Literature and Expression

North Street, Toronto

EMMA SCOTT NASMITH, F.C.M., Principal

This School offers Normal Courses, open to Matriculants, for the training of teachers in

Physical Education and Dramatic Art

Each of these courses extends over a period of two years, and a third year's study gives graduation in both.

Miss Mildred Marsh of the Vestoff-Serova Russian School of Dancing, New York, a new member of the Staff of this School, is arranging classes in Interpretative and Classic Dancing.

For Calendar and further information apply to the School on North Street, or telephone North 4544.

The Margaret Eaton School Digital Collection is a not-for-profit resource created in 2014-2015 to assist scholars, researchers, educators, and students to discover the Margaret Eaton School archives housed in the Peter Turkstra Library at Redeemer University College. Copyright of the digital images is the property of Redeemer University College, Ancaster, Canada and the images may not be copied or emailed to multiple sites without the copyright holder's express written permission. However, users may print, download, or email digital images for individual non-commercial use. To learn more about this project or to search the digital collection, go to <http://libguides.redeemer.ca/mes>.